The last Institution which I visited was that of the THREE KINGS,
 under charge of Rev. A. Reid, Wesleyan Missionary, and which I visited in conjunction with Mr. Carleton.

There appeared to me an air of comfort and competence about this School which was not to be found in the others (though in some degree in St. Stephen's) but which contrasted strongly with the struggling poverty of the poor Waikato Schools.

Its objects are the education of Monitors and Scholars.

I found 75 Pupils on the books, of whom 7 were Men, 6 Women, and the remainder Children of all ages. 48 were Maories and 27 Halfcastes.

There were Present in School	67
Sick	7
With Friends	1
Total					75

The average attendance for the past year had been 81.

I examined those in School individually and found their proficiency as follows:—

Class.	Males.	Females.	Maories.	Half-castes.	Read English.			Spell English.			English Grammar.			Write English.			Geography.			Arithmetic.			Handwriting.			Read Maori.			Write Maori.
