

The Hon. Mr. BRYCE to Lieut.-Colonel ROBERTS.

WELLINGTON, 17th April, 1882.—Lieut.-Colonel Roberts, Parihaka.—Carry out my last instructions with respect to the stoppage of Parihaka meetings without hesitation. I entirely approve of what you have done.—JOHN BRYCE.

Lieut.-Colonel ROBERTS to the Hon. Mr. BRYCE.

PARIHAKA, 17th April, 1882, 1.50 p.m.—Hon. Mr. Bryce, Wellington.—Detachment from Pungarehu and Newall Road arrived. Whares now being pulled down. Natives informed that it is in consequence of holding a meeting against your orders. Will destroy about a dozen whares round old marae. Do you wish any arrests made?—J. M. ROBERTS, Lieut.-Colonel.

The Hon. JOHN BRYCE to Lieut.-Colonel ROBERTS.

WELLINGTON, 17th April, 1882.—Colonel Roberts, Parihaka.—Yes, arrest adult male strangers, if present in numbers.—JOHN BRYCE.

Lieut.-Colonel ROBERTS to the Hon. Mr. BRYCE.

PARIHAKA, 17th April, 1882, 3.52 p.m.—Hon. Mr. Bryce, Wellington.—Have destroyed twelve whares round the marae; had everything removed out of them first.—J. M. ROBERTS, Lieut.-Colonel.

Lieut.-Colonel ROBERTS to the Hon. Mr. BRYCE.

PUNGAREHU, 17th April, 1882, 7 p.m.—Hon. Mr. Bryce, Wellington.—Strange Natives—that is, Natives from different settlements within the Parihaka Block—began to leave as soon as we commenced pulling down the whares, and, as a number could not be arrested, I thought it better not to act. Some of the strange Natives had passes. It would be well not to allow passes about the 17th. The men from Newall Road camp remain at Parihaka to-night.—J. M. ROBERTS, Lieut.-Colonel.

Lieut.-Colonel ROBERTS to the Hon. Mr. BRYCE.

PUNGAREHU, 17th April, 1882, 7 p.m.—Hon. Mr. Bryce, Wellington.—Messenger satisfied, from conversation with Natives, that they held meeting owing to reports that you were not in office.—J. M. ROBERTS.

Lieut.-Colonel ROBERTS to the Hon. Mr. BRYCE.

PUNGAREHU, 18th April, 1882, 10.50 a.m.—Hon. Mr. Bryce, Wellington.—Natives very sullen. No signs of further meeting to-day, as very stormy and wet. They have carried away the things taken out of the whares destroyed yesterday.—J. M. ROBERTS, Lieut.-Colonel.

The Hon. Mr. BRYCE to Lieut.-Colonel ROBERTS.

WELLINGTON, 18th April, 1882.—Colonel Roberts, Parihaka.—Can you give me an idea of the number of Maoris present at the meeting yesterday who had passes, and by whom they were signed.—JOHN BRYCE.

Lieut.-Colonel ROBERTS to the Hon. Mr. BRYCE.

PUNGAREHU, 18th April, 1882, 11.40 a.m.—Hon. Mr. Bryce, Wellington.—Four Natives from Oruanui had passes from 6th to 20th instant, signed by Mr. Rennell, and eight signed by Hone Pihama.—J. M. ROBERTS, Lieut.-Colonel.

Lieut.-Colonel ROBERTS to the Hon. JOHN BRYCE.

PUNGAREHU, 19th April, 1882.—Hon. Mr. Bryce, Wellington.—Mr. Carrington now returned from Parihaka, and thinks Natives will not hold another meeting, owing to the action taken by us on the 17th instant.—J. M. ROBERTS, Lieut.-Colonel.

Major PARRIS to the Hon. Mr. BRYCE.

NEW PLYMOUTH, 22nd April, 1882.—Hon. Native Minister, Wellington.—An individual living at Normanby, who was lately dismissed from the service, furnished a telegram to the Patea Mail, stating that Mr. Parris had given the Natives leave to return to Parihaka. I deem it my duty to bring this under your notice, and to most positively deny that I have ever given any Native or Natives leave to return to Parihaka; but, on the contrary, have invariably told them that if they go without a pass they were liable to be arrested. I should not have taken any notice of it, but from the fact that the newspapers are copying it, and giving it a wide circulation, for want, I suppose, of other matter to fill up with.—R. PARRIS.

The Hon. Mr. BRYCE to Major PARRIS.

WELLINGTON, 24th April, 1882.—Major Parris, New Plymouth.—The statement in reference to yourself and the Parihaka Maoris was first made, I believe, in the Wellington Times. I had little doubt as to the source from which it came, and the motives with which it was written. I believe I estimated the slander at its true value. Of course such statements are calculated to do harm, but it is one of those inconveniences it seems difficult to avoid.—JOHN BRYCE.
