During the year the baths have been kept in good order, and the sanitary arrangements carried out satisfactorily, with the result that enormous yields of marram-grass have been obtained. Repairs to concrete walls and platform have been effected, and a fence erected on the sea-wall from Beach Street to the baths, thus affording protection to cyclists and pedestrians. The pile groins at St. Clair continue to do good work, and no portion of the foreshore has been washed away for at least seven years. Fencing has been continued from Tahuna Park to the Tomahawk Road boundary to protect the grass and lupin plantations, and 40 chains of scrub fencing has been erected for the purpose of arresting drift sand, with a view to filling in the low-lying parts of the lagoon off St. Kilda. Lupins continue to spread, and are rapidly covering the whole of the sandhills. Patches burnt off in 1907 were renewed with seedlings, and are now covered with vegetation from 3 ft. to 6 ft. high. The track opposite Moreau Street has been improved, and the one opposite the Queen's Drive is being raised and covered with rock for a further distance of about 3 chains. The band-rotunda has been completed, enclosed with a fence, and the enclosure turfed.
