

PARCERIAS

Tariq et al. / Adverse Events 11

1880) Wadsworth Anthology,
Volume II, Part 2, p. 2.

THE Parauitenga iwi of Northland, led by their chief Te Manaia o Te Iwi Kooti ki Hauhungouti, Te Apiti, are in the process of re-opening their marae, Rāhī, to whānau, whānau-led groups, and other community members. The iwi have been in a long-standing dispute with the Ministry of Primary Industries over their traditional fishing grounds in the Waikato River, which has led to a long, difficult legal process. Manaia is determined to continue to work towards a settlement that will benefit all.
