PINK PILLS

PALE PEOPLE.

FOR . .

'A MERE SKELETON.'

A DEBILITATED MAN FILLED WITH LIFE AND VIGOUR

Blood disorders and blood impoverishments (weakness) lead to a host of specific diseases, some fatal, others not fatal. Diarrhoea and dysentery are two of the worst results of this weakness, and deaths from this source are of daily occurrence. Hence every precaution should be taken to avoid the initial weakness and thus remove its invariably fearful consequences. Mr W. Filmer, of Abbott-street, West Maitland, N.S.W., where he is a highly respected resident, thus tells of his narrow escape from death:—

'For from twenty-five to thirty years I suffered from chronic diarrhoea,' he says. 'At times I was affected in a most alarming manner, and notwithstanding all my care with regard to diet, etc., I suffered terribly. I fell away to a mere skeleton, grew weak, lost all confidence in my powers, and, finally, got so debilitated that after an attack I have been seized with fainting fits which left me in a prostrate and helpless condition. My medical adviser ordered a change last November, '97, as a last resource. During my absence from Maitland I met a friend in Newcastle who had been a sufferer in the same manner as myself for ten years, and on his advice I resolved to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. In January, '98, I procured the pills and the result was most satisfactory from the outset. My head grew clearer, my appetite increased, and I gradually grew stronger, and now, after all my years of suffering I can most conscientiously say that three and a half or four boxes of these famous pills have brought about my ultimate recovery. To-day I actually feel better than I have done for the past thirty years, and during the last nine months my weight has increased thirteen pounds. In sending this testimonial testifying to the good qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I am performing my duty, so that other sufferers can know for a surety that a remedy is procurable that will make their troubles things of the past. Should I ever again be attacked in a similar manner, I would have no hesitation in taking these pills, and would feel quite certain of their giving me almost instant relief.'

Need we print stronger testimony than this?

PALE GIRLS MADE PRETTY

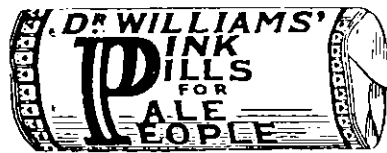

Upon parents rests a great responsibility at the time their daughters are budding into womanhood. If your daughter is pale, complains of weakness, is 'tired out' upon the slightest exertion; if she is troubled with headache or back ache, pain in the side, if her temper is fitful and her appetite poor she is in a condition of extreme peril, a fit subject for the most dreaded of all diseases—Consumption. If you notice any of the above symptoms lose no time in procuring Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They will assist the patient to develop properly and regularly; they will enrich the blood and restore health's roses to the cheeks; bright eyes and lightness of step will surely follow their use, and all danger of consumption and premature death will be averted.

NO APPETITE. TIRED IN THE MORNINGS.

HOW YOUR NEIGHBOUR FOUND A CURE.

'I really tried everything to improve my complexion; my face used to be perfectly yellow; my lips were bloodless and my gums white, and I was fearfully weak—a victim to persistent, pernicious anaemia (bloodlessness),' so said Mrs Johns, of 60, Yourong-street, Sydney. 'Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, however, gave me a dazzling, beautiful complexion, and made me most strong and always energetic. Formerly I was very thin and fearfully depressed in spirits, whilst my appetite failed me altogether. My sleep used to be restless and disturbed and I was so tired in the mornings that I could hardly get out of bed, and when I did I used to lay on the sofa, feeling I hardly cared what happened. I saw a doctor who said I needed a strong tonic, and I had several bottles of physic from him, besides tonics from chemists, but I grew no better. I was in this miserable and hopeless condition when I heard from someone who had been cured by them about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and

You Needn't.

"I can't help it; it's the heat," you say. No such thing. Don't be always blaming the weather. It's your blood that's at fault. You want a tonic—to strengthen your back—to build up your blood and nerves—to stimulate your brain. You want

I at once got some. After taking a few I was agreeably surprised to find a real and distinct change for the better. I got rid of that miserable depression of spirits, which in itself was enough to keep me ill, and in a few days I was able to sleep the night through without interruption. The pills, too, gave me a good appetite, and I began slowly to get cheerful and fat again. After taking six boxes I was completely cured. I shall remember my cure with gratitude.'
