An Up-to-Date Jewellery Establishment.

Improvements have been frequent of late in Queen-street, which now boasts some very bandsome shop fronts, and among the latest tradesmen to move with the times is Mr A. Kohn, the old-established jeweller. The whole of the estimization provenier. The whole of the front of the shop was removed, and re-placed with a light and gracefully de-signed window, which affords much more space for showing off his wares than the old window did. Mr Koln's splenchi stock of jewellevy is displayed to the very best advantage, and his window is a great source of attraction for the public. As the alterations have been made to enable the proprietor to cope with a rapidly increasing business they have not been confined merely to other parts of the promises, which are now replete with the batest appliances for turning ont work of the highest class at a minimum cost. Mr Kohu has just completed as order for the King of Tonga, who was so pleased with the work that he appointed Mr Kohu his jeweller. front of the shop was removed, and reieweller.
