Moody, At the conclusion of the capping ceremony the ladies of the College entertained the Chancellor and a number of students and friends at afternoon tea in the Lecture cellor and a number of students and friends at afternoon tea in the Lecture Hall, as a reception to the new graduates, who then received the congratulations of their many well-wishers. The annual supper of the Graduates' Association was held in the evening at the Strand Cafe, when the new graduation are were hospitably entertained. On Saturday evening the usual graduation social of the Students' Association eveniunted, when a most enthusiastic and social of the Students Association even-tuated, when a most enthusiastic and appreciative audience filled to its ut-most capacity the Lecture Hall of the College. The chief feature of the pro-gramme was the musical connedictts, "A Modern Hamlet." by Mr L T. Pickmere, a smartly written and sparkling comedy, set to varied and well-selected popular airs; altogether a happy in-apiration, and forming a most pleasing and enjoyable entertainment. The following was the cast of characters; Prof. Simpleway, Mr E. de C. Charke; Prof. Straddlewit, Mr F. Jowitt; Islo de Witt, Mr J. E. Holloway; Lurline Tempest, Miss F. Scott; Borcen Mayden, Miss F. Scott; Borcen Mayden, Misse Mosse; Jess, Tanleff, Miss B. Brown; Win, Summon, Miss McMaster, After Win, Summon, Miss McMaster. After this excellent performance one is forced to admit the entire absence of the "blue stocking" element, the beauty and grace of the lady graduates, garbed in their College gowns and capes, being a conspicuous feature. One and all acquitted themselves admirably, the acting and the singing being of a very high order, and much above the average of amateur performances. A splendid orchestra connected with the University supplied the music, and altogether the performance must be voted a complete success, and the performers and the young author must have been flattered at the enthusiasm of the reception their at the enthusiasm of the reception their efforts met. During the interval a re-cherche supper was served in the library

EDEN AND EPSOM CLUB'S "AT HOME."

"AT HOME."

The delightful practice of winding-up many years been adopted by the Eden and Epsom Lawn Tennis and Croquet Club, and the function this year, which took place in the Federal Hall on Thursday evening last, proved particularly enjoyable. One advantage about these club gatherings is the fact that most of the guests are well known to each other, and there is an absence of stiffness from the very outset. The ladies' committee, aided by the more enthusiastic gentlemen members, had wrought wonders with the ball; although, when admiring the abundance of heautiful nikan fronds used in these decorations one cannot bur reflect with decorations one cannot but reflect with some regret that considerable destrucsome regret that considerable destruc-tion must be wrought upon the survi-vors of this lovely but slow-growing tree in husbes near Auckland for such a temporary purpose. However, noth-ing looks more effective than a com-bination of this dark green foliage with the bright huss of flags. The dresses the bright hues of flags. The dresses of the ladies were particularly pretty, and I am pleased to observe that the taste for bright colours is gaining favour, and whatever may be said against the recent revival in England of the gay colours of a bygone generation for gentlemen's attire, there is no doubt well lit ballroom with an abundance of brilliant costumes interspersed with evening dress. Another feature of the ball, probably due to friendly associa-tion on the lawn was the fact that tion on the lawn was the fact that nearly all the ladies present participated in the dancing. The supper, which was also carried out by the ladies, reflected the highest credit on their appreciation of the good things of this life, and was not the least enjoyable part of the evening's pleasure. The tables were spread in the commodious supper room, and were artistically decorated. Marriage's band provided joyable part of the econing's pleasure.
