

HAWERA

Dear Bee,
Last Saturday was gloriously fine for the tennis match between the Hawera and Eltham Clubs.

THE TENNIS GROUNDS

were very gay. Some splendid play was witnessed, and eventually Hawera won by three games, the local ladies proving themselves much stronger than their opponents.

hat; Miss Day, cream serge coat and pleated skirt, smart hat trimmed with pink roses; Mrs. Hasham, frock of white silk, frilled and trimmed with lace, white hat;

THE SECOND SWIMMING CARNAVAL

was held at the Hawera Baths on Wednesday night, and was even more successful than the previous one.

WANGANUI.

Dear Bee,
Last week Czerny, the master magician, appeared

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

for two evenings. Amongst the audience I noticed Mrs. James Watt, Miss Kurl, Mrs. Brookfield, Mrs. J. Foster, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Datherly, Mrs. and Miss Empson, Mr and Mrs W. Barlaso, Mrs. Maclean, Mrs. Campbell, Mr and Mrs Atkinson, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Pilgrim, Mr and Mrs Prouse, and others.

On Saturday there was a very large attendance at the

CAMPBELL STREET TENNIS COURTS.

where the tournaments are now being played off. Afternoon tea was provided by the Misses Empson and Cleghorn. Amongst those I noticed were Mesdames Empson, Beattie (Wellington), Clay, Cleghorn, Gonville, Saunders, Barnicoat, Newcombe, Izard, Cowper (Dunedin), Greenwood, Hughes Johnston, John Anderson, Sherriff, Miss's Barnicoat (2), Cleghorn, Empson, Moore, Maudslers, W. Anderson, Darley, Moore (Wairarapa), Newton, Lilliton, Towsey, Newcombe, Cowper, Mallng, Mackintosh, Stamford, Messrs Izard, Harold, Loumas, G. Anderson, Willis, Hardwick, Morrison, and others.

THE WANGANUI JOCKEY CLUB

was favoured with glorious weather for the opening day of the autumn meeting. The attendance, which was exceptionally large, included visitors from all parts of the colony. The new grand-stand was much admired. Amongst the many beautiful toilettes on the lawn I noticed Mrs W. Johnston (Awarahi) in a handsome black taffeta costume with Oriental embroidery, and vest of cream net and lace, black and white toque; Mrs E. Duncan (Wellington) wore a smart pale green tweed coat and skirt, with velvet collar of a darker shade, white embroidered linen blouse, green straw French sailor hat with green and pink shaded ribbon; Mrs Abbot (Wellington), cream serge Norfolk coat and skirt, and a very smart pale pink felt hat with wreath of exquisite shaded heliotrope roses and rosettes of chiffon to match the felt at the back; Mrs G. Phurazay (Feilding), white gauged muslin frock, with lace and insertion, cream straw French sailor hat with chiffon and a wreath of cherry velvet flowers in it; Mrs W. Johnston (Wellington) wore a smart costume of cream serge, with tucked panel in front of skirt, and cream motifs, full sleeves, and Irish point lace falling to the wrist, the same lace trimming the bodice, becoming rose-pink straw and chiffon toque; Mrs Napier, black voile gown, with cream lace-veiled and full sleeves with cream lace, black chiffon hat with tiny cream and yellow roses in it; Mrs Torford (Foxton) wore a white embroidered linen frock, Tuscan straw hat with a wreath of pink and crimson roses and foliage in it; Mrs Friend (Palmerston North), black Melton coat and skirt, cream vest, black and white bonnet; Mrs A. B.H (Palmerston), pale grey Norfolk tweed coat and skirt, stylish crimson straw hat and tie; Mrs Tripe (Palmerston North) wore a pale grey voile, with narrow frills on the skirt and trimmed with chiffon and champagne lace, black picture hat with feathers; Mrs Marsack (Auckland), pretty pale pink muslin gauged skirt, with cross-over bodice and vest of Valenciennes insertion and lace, full elbow sleeves edged with lace, cream straw hat with brim of narrow Valenciennes lace, and a spray of pink roses at the side; Mrs Lowry (Hawke's Bay) wore a becoming frock of heliotrope floral muslin, gauged skirt, and bodice with lace and full sleeves to the elbow, with insertion, black and white gauged chiffon hat with feathers; Mrs Hole, black serge Eton coat and skirt, with collar and revers of white-cloth, white linen vest, pretty black crinoline straw toque with chiffon and quills; Mrs A. Izard, white embroidered muslin frock, heliotrope chiffon hat with velvet flowers to match; Miss Darley wore a dainty white silk, with frilled skirt champagne lace on bodice, and fichu of lace, with full sleeves edged with same, black picture hat; Mrs. S. Gordon wore a handsome black brocade, with herthe outlined with champagne motifs and deep yoke effect of the same lace, black chiffon and straw hat with sprays of pink roses and foliage; Miss Grosson, cream voile costume profusely trimmed with champagne lace and insertion, early Victorian yoke of lace, and full hanging sleeves edged with lace, she wore a smart black velvet French sailor hat with chiffon and black ostrich tips at the back; Mrs. Gifford Marshall, pale blue and white gauged silk frock, with lace on bodice, and skirt trimmed with festoons of black and white Valenciennes lace and insertion, full sleeves to the elbow edged with narrow black and white lace, black picture hat; Miss Moore, white crepe de chine gauged gown, with deep swathed white silk belt, yoke and sleeves of Irish point lace, cream fancy straw hat with chiffon and wreath of deep cream roses and foliage, with bow of green ribbons; Mrs. Farle, black silk muslin, gauged and black satin belt with ends, champagne lace yoke outlined with motifs, black feather stole, black and white crinoline straw toque; Mrs. Empson, black and white gauged frock, with lace on bodice, black and white chiffon hat with egrettes; Miss Empson wore a dainty heliotrope delaine frock, long cream serge coat faced with white silk, cream coarse straw hat with cream ribbons and roses; Mrs. A. Cameron, Melton cloth tailor-made coat and skirt, black velvet hat with ostrich plumes; Miss Cameron, black and white check coat and skirt, smart black and white toque with feathers; Miss M. Harrison wore a dainty gauged white silk frock, with early Victorian yoke of silk lace, fancy straw hat with wreath of shaded flowers and autumn foliage; Mrs. Clay wore a white voile skirt, with blouse of lace and pale blue silk sash, cream fancy straw hat with blue ribbons and flowers; Mrs. Fairburn, navy blue voile, with vest of champagne net, and outlined with pale green velvet, pale heliotrope French sailor hat with violets and velvet to match; Mrs. Powicke, pale green tweed coat and skirt, striped with cloth a darker shade, crinoline toque with a spray of heliotrope and white violets at the side. Mrs. J. C. Greenwood, pale grey tweed coat and skirt, crimson straw toque with quills and ribbon; Miss O'Brien, pale green linen frock, with cream vest embroidered in green and black French knots, cream hat with ruchings of lace and white satin ribbon, and white quills; Mrs. Harvey (Waverley) wore a cream canvas coat and skirt, embroidered in green, dull green shaded coarse straw hat; Mrs. D. Taylor (Waverley), brown Melton cloth coat and skirt, tomato red straw hat with silk to match; Mrs. Paget (Stratford), pale pink floral muslin frock, with lace and insertion and wide-swathed belt, fancy straw hat with tiny pink roses and blue ribbons, with chiffon strings; Mrs. Mackay, rose pink linen frock, profusely trimmed with champagne lace and insertion, black chiffon hat with ostrich plumes; Mrs. Peel, white linen Eton coat and skirt, white embroidered vest, brown straw hat with large golden and brown flowers; Mrs. H. Cowper (Dunedin), champagne canvas voile, with yoke of lace and full sleeves to the elbow, Tuscan straw hat with champagne chiffon and spray of tiny pink roses; Miss N. Cowper, crushed strawberry Eton coat and skirt, white silk vest, cream straw hat with wreath of flowers; Miss A. Cowper, white embroidered linen, black hat with crimson velvet flowers; Mrs. Inky Saunders (Dunedin) wore a becoming brown and cream muslin frock, with tiny frills edged with cream insertion and lace, vest of cream lace, brown gauged chiffon hat with brown and old gold flowers and ribbons; Mrs. Hundell, black voile costume, with champagne lace, embroidered with pale heliotrope chiffon, black gauged chiffon hat with spray of heliotrope flowers; Miss Morse wore a black and white fleeced tweed coat and skirt, smart black straw toque with ruche of chiffon and black quills; Mrs. Stamford, black voile, with black silk, black bonnet with chiffon and rosette of green and blue ribbon; Miss Stamford wore a pretty pale blue floral muslin frock, with lace and insertion, cream straw hat with green and blue satin ribbons; Mrs W. Anderson, pale grey voile costume with vest of lace and revers of white silk and lace outlined with pale blue, black straw hat with feathers; Miss C. Anderson, green and pink floral muslin with wide gauged flounce on skirt, and swathed belt of pale green silk, herthe of lace and net, cream straw hat with gauged chiffon and wreath of pale yellow roses; Miss E. Anderson, pale pink muslin frock banded with narrow silk insertion, champagne straw hat with deep cream flowers; Miss Watt (Wellington), navy blue coat and skirt faced with white, cream straw hat with black velvet ribbon; Mrs Collins, green Eton cloth coat and skirt, fancy straw hat with flowers; Miss McNeill, pale blue muslin frock, the skirt and bodice banded with wide cream insertion, black straw hat with pale blue forget-me-nots in it; her sister wore a pale pink floral muslin, wide pink silk swathed belt, fancy straw hat with pink flowers and chiffon in it; Mrs H. Jackson, pale green voile with lace on bodice and trimmed with champagne insertion, blue and green French sailor hat with shaded ribbons; Mrs J. Foster wore an exquisite trained gown of pale blue crepe de chine over silk of the same shade, A-shaped yoke of champagne lace, and full elbow sleeves edged with

HEIGHT INCREASED
By the New 'Glaesce-Extensor' Method a Rational and Scientific System of Exercise...

WHAT IS RHEUMATISM? - Rheumatism is caused by an over-rich condition of the blood. This excess of uric acid forms a poisonous deposit which usually settles in the joints and tissues...

BLOOD POISON. FOR MORE THAN TWENTY YEARS we have made the cure of blood poison a specialty. Primary, Secondary or Tertiary Blood Poison Permanently Cured.

ANGIER'S EMULSION Digestive Disorders
A moment's thought will show why Angier's Emulsion has found such favour with the medical profession in the treatment of stomach and bowel disorders...