

THE WORLD OF FASHION

BY MARGUERITE

What to Wear When Travelling.

"When in doubt leave it at home," was the maxim propounded by a wise traveller on the subject of the various items of a holiday outfit, for there is no denying that the average woman contemplating a short sojourn abroad loads herself with too much luggage at the outset, and often mars the comfort of the journey by a multiplicity of small cares in the shape of bags and parcels, and by the obvious unsuitability of her travelling "get up."

To many women the Easter holiday is narrowed down to a bare week, or even to an extended "week-end" from Thursday to Tuesday. Obviously, therefore, a couple of trunks crammed with

A PARIS GOWN.

A STYLISH DRESS.

In the new floral chiffon, trimmed with Valenciennes lace and insertion.

A CHARMING TOILETTE IN BRODERIE ANGLAIS AND VALENCIENNES. LONG VEIL OF ROSE TULLE.

