The annual "Marathon" race of the King's College, Auckland, took place on Thursday afternoon over a distance of about 31 miles. No less than 202 boys faced the starter, and the genuine amateur spirit in which the event was contested is evidenced by the fact that the prize money was divided among the runners. The winner, who is a very small boy, finished the course in 2 hr. 34 min. 27 sec. The runner-up, who is a very small boy, finished the course in 2 hr. 34 min. 27 sec.
