Bridge Tournament.

The bridge tournament which was held in aid of the St. John Ambulance Dis-trict Nurses Fund on Wednesday was an unqualified success. The whole thing an unqualified success. The whole thing went well from start to finish, and was much enjoyed by all present. There were 50 tables, and practically no expenses, as Messrs. Kirkcaldie and Cogenerously gave their big tea room free of charge, the players provided their own cards, markers, etc., and the prizes (£3 3/ and £1 1/) were orders on the bazaar which is to be opened on Monday. The room, always a pretty one, was decorated with palms and large clumps of arun lilies, and all the lights were shaded with pink, which gave a soft and becoming glow. Play was very animated during the evening. Finally Mrs. C. Pearce and Mr. McCosh Clark were declared the winners. and Mesdames Kane and Abbott the runners. was very animated during the evening. Finally Mrs. C. Pearce and Mr, McCosh Clark were declared the wimers, and Mesdames Kane and Abott the runnerang. Mesdames Morison, Tweed, and A. Crawford were the promoters of the tournament, and were highly congratulated on the success of it. Supper was provided by Misa Tendall, and the tearoom staff acted as waitresses, all wearning pink and white gowns. There were some very handsome gowns worn, but it was difficult to see them, as there was naturally so little moving about. Mrs. Movison wore black sequin frock with white lace scarf; Mrs. Crawford, floral silk, faintly patterned pink roses on a pale blue ground: Mrs. Tweed, black lace, banded with velvet over white silk: Mrs. Newman, champagne coloured ninon semi-librectoire gown, with guimpe of jewelled lace and folds of gold tissue; Mrs. C. Elsewhere I send you an account of the marriage of Miss Doris Roskruge, who was much admired on her wedding day. Her engagement to Mr. Collins was before she left for Engoay. Her engagement to Mr. Colline was amounced just before she left for Eng-land two years ago, and it is only a couple of months since she returned. Her time in England was mostly spent with her sister, Mrs. Garnet Holmes.

October 26.

A Maori Mission.

Quite a number of people were invited by Miss Griffin to the opening of the new Maori Mission house at Whakarewarewa on Monday, the 18th. Miss Griffin (who has come out to New Zealand a second time for the purpose) and Miss Grant hope to do a great work amongst the Maoris at Whakarewarewa, the children especially taking to the instruction imparted by those two zealous lady missionaries, of whom they are very fond. Native children are affectionate little soule, and are easily interested. After a short dedication service by Archdeacon Williams, assisted by the Rev. C. A. Tisdail, addresses were given by the Rev. Tisdail and Archdeacon Williams, and by Meta Taupopoki and Wheroro. The absence of the Rev. F. A. Bennett on this occasion was regretted by all, but he is away on a visit to the Islands after the severe shock of his wife's death. A delkious aftermoon tea was served to the guests later by Misses Griffin and Grant, assisted by several bright young Maori girls. Amongst the guests I noticed: Mesdames Empson. Tisdail, Malfroy, Kenny (Auckiani), Rhodes, Scott, Penney, Robertson, Gardner, Melville, Pasley, Maxwell, Birks, Hill, Steele, Lyons, Wrigley, Misses Burgoyne, Malfroy, Penney, Seideberg (Napier), Butt. Seideberg (Napier), Butt.

An At Home.

Mrs. L. Rirks gave an "at home" on Tureday, the 19th, and invited a number of people to meet Archdeacon and Mrs. Williams. She received in an Empire or people to meet Arendeacon and Mrss williams. She received in an Empire gown of electric-blue chiffon taffeta, and was assisted by Nurse Scideberg (of Napier), who wore a white silk blouse threaded with blue, and a blue lustre skirt. Amongst those present beside the guest of the afternoon, Mrs. Williams, I noticed: Mesdames Malfroy, Empson, Carr, Wilson (Wellington), Kenny (Auckland), Lundon, Hammond, Menzies, Whiteombe (Christchurch), Tisdall, Braithwaite, Cragg, Crowhurst, Misses S. Empson, Corlett, Malfroy, Freer, Lundon. A delicious afternoon tea was handed round, and during the afternoon. Mrs. Cragg played, and songs were given by Misses Malfroy, Corlett, and S. Empson.

The Winter Dances.

The last of our series of jolly little winter dances was held in the Parish Hall on Thursday, the 21st, and, in spite Hall on Thursday, the 21st, and, in spite of the rain, everyone turned up, and the dance, as usual, was quite a success. The committee—Mrs. Maxwell, Misses Donne, C. Sinith, Pownall, and Hawkes-worth—is to be congratulated upon the way in which they have managed these little affairs, which provided a long-felt want amongst the young people. A delicious supper was arranged upon the stage, which has done duty as a supper-room, and the music was provided by Mr. Partlett, extras being contributed by Misses Smith and Pounall. Amongst those present were Mesdames Maxwell, Kenny, Mailroy, Misses Pounall, Smith, Donne, Hawkesworth, Ireland, S. Empson, Symes (Gisborne), Wylie, Sisley, Lyon, Malfroy, Messra, Hawkins, G. Emp-son, W. Purcell, Maingay (Te Arolan), Martin, Wright (Auckland), Hawley, Browning (Auckland), Wylie, Munson, Melville, Dr. Bertram.

The Bowling Season.

The Bowling Season.

The opening of the bowling green do Saturday last was rather marred by the wet weather. A number of bowlers, however, turned up, and the jack was thrown in by Mrs. Urquhart, wife of the president of the club, and the green was declared open in a short speech by the president. All the members present were entertained at afternoon tea at the Kiosk by the president. Owing to the sodden condition of the green through beary rain, play was not allowed, but lowlers are looking forward to a good season on splendid greens.

October 29. Tennis Opening.

Tennis Opening.

What with the show, races, theatre, and sundry small dances, this last week has been a gala one, and the elements, on the whole, have proved kind. The town has been thronged with visitors in various walks of life, from the "squatter" of the backblocks down to the "organ grinder" of the street corner. The Kaiti Tennis Club were fortunate in having a beautiful afternoon for the opening of their courts on Saturday last, and a very good attendance of both members and friends were present, and a very good attendance of both members and friends were present, and a very good attendance of both members and friends were present, amongst whom I noticed: The President of the Club, Mr. T. A. Coleman and Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Penn, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Stock, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Stock, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Rarker, Mrs. Marde, Mrs. Murray (Hastings), the Misses Agnew Brown, McCredie, de Lautour, Barker, Murray, Coleman, Robson, Davies, Coplin (Hawera), Crawford, Bright, Doughty (Wellington), Mrs. Traill and Mrs. Carmichael. A delicious ofternoon tea was dispensed by Mrs. Murray and Mrs Barlow, the tables of which were tastefully decorated with roses from Mr. Grant's garden. The Vita Bros. Orchestra played at intervals during the afternoon, and a very pleasant time was spent by everyone present.

A Small Dance.

Mrs. Frank Earker gave a small dance at her home, "Te Harpara," on Tuesday evening. Amongst her guests were: Mrs W. Barker, Mrs. Stevenson, the Misses Barker, MacLean, Wachsmann, Bennett, Donner, Nolan, Nixon (Dunedin), Rey-nolds, and Mrs H. de Lautour.

The Show.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the annual show took place. The weather was showery on the first day, which prevented many people from going out to the grounds, but on Wednesday, "People's Day," bright sunshine prevailed, and a record attendance of over 7000 are said to have passed through the gates, the showers of the previous day having proved a blessing in disguise, for it laid the dust and made the grounds in perfect order. Amongst so many people it was hard to distinguish many notables, much less their frocks, etc., but the following are a few who were to be seen amongst hundreds of others:—Mrs. Murphy, black east and skirt, white hat trimmed with black; Mrs. Reynolds, grey costume and brock hat; Mrs. Nolan, dark tailor-made coat and skirt, electric blus hat trimmed with blue and touches of grey; Mrs. S. Williamson, fawa cloth sosturus, fawn hat of crimoline straw; Mrs. J. Reynolds, blue and white silk dress, white straw at the striped coat and skirt; Mrs. D. Sherrett, heliotrope and white check extume, Mrs. Dex. Blake, rose pink linen coat and
