CONCLUDING DAY.

The concluding day's racing in connection with the A.R.C. spring meeting took place at filtersile on Saturday last, when there was more than an average attendance. Although slight rain fell it was more for heat, and the racing was got through without inconvenience, while the track was not affected, and was in good order. The delays were again in evidence on the matter is seen as a second of the rectified. Considering a start is made at 12 o'clock with the racing, it is ruitenious that eight races should take just on six bones to run off; but that is what prevails at present.

Speculation was very brisk during the afternoon, the staff of Messers II. II. Have and Co. bandling the sum of £12.360 loy, which is an increase of £2.85 on last year, and makes a grand total for the meeting of an increase of £2.85 on last year, and makes a grand total for the meeting of the light of the first on the staff for the gathering, as against £1476 for the gathering, as against £1476 for the gathering, as against £2943 twelve booths ago.
