The portfolio for the address has been designed and manufactured by Mr. A. Kohn, jeweller, and is a beautiful piece of work. At each corner is a piece of polished New Zealand green stone relieved by a Royal Crown in solid gold. On one side of the cover is beautifully engraved a nikan tree and on the opposite side a large puna fern. At the top is the Royal Standard and New Zealand Ensign, engraved together with the arms of the City of Auckland in the centre of a shield of New Zealand ferns, and at the bottom is the inscription, whilst at each corner is a large fern in solid silver in relief. The inlaid woodwork of the oval centre is a masterpiece for which Mr. Scoufert is responsible, and consists of clematis and titree beautifully inlaid, the outside of the oval being a representation of Maori carving, whilst in the centre in silver in relief is the Coat of Arms of His Royal Highness. The back cover is of inlaid woods, the centre being a rare piece of kauri wood, whilst rewa-rewa, puriri, maitai, totara and other woods are also used. The portfolio, which is entirely of New Zealand products, reflects the greatest credit on Dr. Campbell, who superintended the work, and Mr. A. Kohn the designer and manufacturer, who has succeeded in turning out a piece of work worthy of the occasion for which it is intended.
