sailor bat. Mrs Street gave a large afternoon tea in her pretty garden at "Birtley," l'arnell, last Friday. It was the first outdoor function of this season, and fortunately the weather was simply perfect, the sun shining out, as if approving fully of the festivity, and if his unshorn beams should be too hot for the pleasure-seekers, a gentle breeze rolled across the lawn. Mrs Street, ably assisted by her niece, Miss Rooke, received her many guests on the croquet lawn. A marquee was erected, where afternoon tea, accompanied by tasty cakes, was dispensed. Croquet was indulged in by the devotees of that game. Mrs Broham, who is on a visit to Auckland for a month, is a guest of our hostess for that time. Amongst those present:-
