NEWTON V. GRAFTON.

There was a fair attendance at Alexandra Park on Saturday to wit-ness the opening of the Auckland ness the opening of the Auckland Rugby season. Grafton (last year's champions) met Newton in front of the stand, and after a tough struggle the stand, and after a tough struggle were beaten by Newton by n try to nil, much to the surprise of the black and whites' supporters, who looked upon the match as a "cake walk." Grafton had rather the best of the first spell, and were unlucky in not secoring. McKenzie kicked what looked like a goal from the stand, but the referee thought otherwise. In the second half Newton forwards beat their opponents badly, and from a forward rest Long scored. Wilson made ward rush Long scored. Wilson made a poor attempt at goal. Thomson a poor strenge as gon.

run towards the finish, but the opposing forwards soon worked play to ing forwards soon worked play to centre.

The winning team undoubtedly owe their victory to their forwards, who played a very bard game from the sturt, the most prominent being Long and Heath, Grafton's forward team contained one or two who were not very anxious to get into the scrums. Brady (2), Neville and McCormick worked well.

worked well.

Dave Pillenger of full for Newton played a good safe game, and must stand a chance for rep. honours this season. He represented Taranaki against Auckland last year. He got his side out of a couple of tight corners, Roberts and Cowan were prominent at times.

rrs. Moderts and cowan were perminent at times.

Kiernan was the pick of the black and whites' backs, but he was sadly hampered by his forwards being beaten. Thompson put in some good work, and McKenzie was prominent

· PONSONBY v. PARNELL

PONSONBY v. PARNELL.
These old rivals met on No. 2
ground, but little interest was taken in the contest, and the display of footbril was not very great. Parnell had rather the best of the first spell, but Ponsonby showed superior condition at the end of the game, and eventually won by T points to nil, Francis kicking a fine goal from half-way off a mark obtained by Upton, and Richardson scoring a try.
For the winners, Francis played a fine forward game, and L. Riley and Upton did good work among the backs.

On the losing side Gillam (full) was responsible for some fine tackling, and McCarthy-showed good form on his first appearance as a senior.

CITY v. NORTH SHORE.

A good number journeyed to the Shore to witness this match, and though City pulled through with the advantage of 10 points to 3, the game was not at all one-sided. The combination of the City backs was a bit too good for their opponents. Asher and Stevens scored tries, and Cuningham kicked a goal from a mark by Asher. Gerrard scored for the Shore.

JUNIOR MATCHES.

Grafton heat Newton, 8 to 3. Cooper and Murshall scored a try each, and Cooper converted one. Ponsonly heat Parnell, 5 to nil. Saxon got a try, and Ussher convert-

City heat North Shore, 3 to nfl-a try by Harvey.

GOLF NOTES.

Judging from the group of men that stood outside the Newmarket Statlon last Saturday about one o'clock, anxiously waiting for the golf 'bus, a spectator would naturally imagine that in Auckland golf is more popular in winter than in Summer. When the 'bus finally arrived, everyone managed to get a seat of some description, no matter how uncomfortable, but it was a very tight pack.

Although there had been a great quantity of rain through the week, it was surprising to see the condition of the links and greens, which reflect great credit to the labour that has great credit to the labour that has been bestowed on them. Most of the players who were going in for the championship looked forward to a good game, and were not disappointed. There is not much difficulty in picking the winner, and Mr C. E. S. Gillies is the general favourite.

Gillies is the general favourite.

For the matches, Mr J. Sykes was drawn to play Mr C. E. S. Gillies, and, as was expected, the latter won after a match in which he did not exert himself. The match between Mr H. Gillies and Mr Burness was looked on as a very close go, as the latter has been playing a good game lately. But although Mr Burness completely defeated his rival in the long strokes, he in his turn was beaten on the green, and at the finish Mr Gillies came home winner. Mr Carr and Mr Peel played a very close game, the latter being beaten on the greens, but outstripping Mr Carr in the long shots. Although Mr Peel was ahead at Jacob's Ladder, Mr Carr came on better at the end and won by three up and two to play.

Perhaps the keenest game was be-

Perhaps the keenest game was between Mr Colbeck, the runner-up for the New Zealand Championship, and Mr Laurence. This match was very close all through, but by dint of steady play, Mr Laurence managed to defeat his opponent. Mr Laurence has been playing so steadily lately has been playing so stendily lately that we expect to see him in the final. Mr O'Rorke had a bye, and was not present on Saturday, as he was fulfilling his duties as huntsman elsewhere.

elsewhere.

Besides those playing in the Championship there was a big crowd of others present, all having a good game and admiring the condition of the green. During the afternoon His Excellency the Governor appeared on the links, and, although somewhat out of form, he seemed to be having great enjoyment. In spite of the fact that one erratic player sent a ball very close to His Excellency, he expressed great pleasure with the links and its surroundings.
