

Mewlings, a lovely brocade of shot pink, with brighter pink frills and flowers on the bodice; Mrs. W. A. Moore (Dunedin), yellow chiffon frilled skirt, with pointed white brocade top skirt, bodice and sleeves trimmed with yellow; Mrs. Quane, a lovely gown of silver sequin on black net, with pink roses on bodice and down one side of skirt; Mrs. F. W. Thompson, black, the bodice ruffled with pale blue; Mrs. Slater, handsome black velvet; Miss C. Lean, terra cotta silk, with pink frills; Mrs. Guthrie Moore, black satin, with kilted frills of grenadine, bodice with old lace, orange roses and velvet; Mrs. T. Garrard, black brocade, with floral pattern, jet bolero, the corsage finished with chiffon and pink roses, long lace sleeves; Mrs. Waymouth, black satin and lace, with many tiny frills, edged with ribbon, some lovely real lace and diamond ornaments; Miss Waymouth, peach-pink gown; Mrs. Kettle, all black; Miss Kettle, black, relieved with rose-coloured sequin trimming; Mrs. J. Mills (Dunedin), white satin and chiffon, with touches of black; Mrs. W. Wood, pink satin, with black velvet bows; Mrs. P. Wood, white brocade, with yellow sash and panties; Mrs. L. Matson, all black, with bellisera flowers on bodice; Miss Muriel Allen, white frilled mousseline de soie, with berthe of twine lace, patterned in gold thread, violets on bodice and in her hair; her sister also in white and violets; Miss F. Denniston (Dunedin), all black; Miss R. Roberts (Dunedin), white crepe de chine, with pale grey floral pattern outlined with a little colour. Many other lovely gowns were worn. The supper was quite as great a triumph in its way as all the other arrangements, and the Coronation ball will ever be a pleasant memory.
