

NGAURUHOE ACTIVE—THE VOLCANO IN AN ANGRY MOOD.

Mr. C. T. Salmon, of the Government Lands and Survey Department, secured the above photos, whilst the volcano was in the height of eruption. Both he and the party that accompanied him were smothered in ashes before they got to the summit. The lower picture shows a shot in full blast, taken close to the summit, whilst the top one was secured on the edge of the summit.
