

at one side, pretty mauve satin hat with pink roses; Mrs. Adams (Langley Dale), heliotrope chiffon taffeta gown, black toque; Mrs. Griffiths, grey satin charmeuse, black hat with ostrich feathers; Mrs. Eccles, mauve ninon de soie gown relieved with violet velvet, black satin hat with ostrich feathers; Mrs. Vavasour, vieux rose ninon trimmed with beaded fringe, black and gold hat with feathers; Mrs. Horton, grey silk muslin with Oriental trimmings, black hat with pink roses; Mrs. Walker, cream ninon de soie Empire, gold embroidery trimmings, saxe blue hat with gold trimmings; Mrs. Neville, striped ninon with cream net, black toque with feathers; Mrs. R. Bell, brown silk taffeta with brown hat; Miss Bell, black and white striped ninon, black toque; Mrs. Mowat, cornflower blue costume, black hat; Mrs. R. Adams, white embroidery Princess robe, brown hat; Mrs. L. Griffiths, floral Empire muslin, black hat, pink roses; Mrs. Stace, black silk dress, with lace scarf, black toque; Miss B. Griffiths, heliotrope ninon over glove, Empire gown, heliotrope hat with wreath of small flowers; Miss Neville, white silk Empire dress, mauve hat with roses; Miss Amy Neville, blue silk muslin, purple hat with silver wheat and violets; Miss Janet Bell, cream silk dress, hat with purple violets, and green velvet ribbon; Misses N. and E. Mowat, white Empire gowns with black hats; Miss Greenfield (Wellington), blue satin crepe de chine, black hat with gold trimmings; Miss Irene Horton, cream taffeta, hat with flowers; Miss Chaytor, Irish embroidery gown, saxe blue hat; Miss Rogers, cream costume with green hat.

A reception was afterwards held at St. Andrew's, the residence of the bride's mother. The bride and bridegroom then left by motor-car for Pieton, and thence for an extended trip to England and the Continent. The bride's travelling dress was a becoming navy tailor-made, and a large grey silk hat wreathed with scarlet petunias. Before the arrival of the bride at the church, Miss S. Rogers, who presided at the organ, played Wey's "Osser Toric in A" and the "Bridal March" from "Lohengrin," as the party entered the church. Later on Elgar's "Solitude in D" (Amow) was played and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the party left the church. (Blenheim correspondent).

MAGINNITY—PRINGLE.

A pretty wedding took place on March 25th at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, Wellington, when Miss Gertrude Hester Pringle, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Pringle, Wellington, was married to Mr. Arthur Charles Maginnity, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Maginnity, of Nelson. The Rev. T. H. Spratt officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a handsome dress of white chiffon taffetas with insertions of orange blossoms and an embroidered tulle veil. Miss Marie Pringle (sister of the bride) and Miss Andrew Maginnity (sister of the bridegroom) acted as bridesmaids, and they wore frocks of cream striped ninon, and hats of bronze straw lined with pale blue, and they carried bouquets of blue hydrangea. Mr. James Houliker, of Nelson, was best man, and Mr. Eric Selanders, groomsmen. The bride's travelling dress was of saxe blue cloth, and she wore a blue beaver hat with pheasants' plumage. (Nelson correspondent).

O'MEARA—TONKIN.

Miss Maud Heywood Tonkin, eldest daughter of Captain J. C. Tonkin, of Napier, and Mr. Albert O'Meara, of Hastings, son of the late Mr. J. O'Meara, M.P., had a quiet but pretty wedding at the Napier Cathedral on April 6th. Canon Mayne officiated. The bride looked very smart in a cream tailor-made coat and skirt, white chiffon vest, and hat trimmed with chiffon and wings, and carrying a white bouquet. Her bridesmaid was Miss Margaret Tonkin, who wore a cream coat and skirt, with cream chiffon vest, and hat trimmed with white and mauve. Mr. A. McCarthy acted as best man. The young couple left by the early train on their honeymoon trip. (Napier correspondent).

NEIL—PEDDIE.

On April 6th, at 1.30 p.m., Miss C. Peddie, daughter of Mrs. T. Peddie, was married to Mr. Frank G. Neil (Feilding), son of the late Mr. W. G. Neil (Dunedin). The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. J. Hobbs, took place in St. Matthew's Church, Hastings.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. A. Peddie, looked very sweet and graceful in a Princess robe of white embroidered muslin, large white satin straw hat, with plumes of white ostrich feathers. The attendant bridesmaids were Miss B. Peddie (sister of bride) and Miss W. Miller (niece of bride). They wore white embroidered muslin robes over blue glace silk, hats trimmed with pale blue and pink. The bridegroom's present to the bride was a gold watch and muff chain, and the presents to the bridesmaids, gold chains and pearl pendants. The groomsmen were Mr. T. Peddie and Mr. Eric Neil. After the ceremony, a reception was held at the residence of Mrs. T. Peddie.

SWAYNE—GOODALL.

A very pretty wedding was solemnised at St. Andrew's Church, Cambridge, on Wednesday afternoon, when Mr. Norman Goodall was married to Miss Amy Swayne, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swayne, of "The Oaks," Fencourt. The Ven. Archdeacon Willis was the officiating clergyman. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a lovely gown of cream chiffon taffeta with panel front, yoke of cream silk lace, draped corsage, finished with a bow and tucked sleeves; she wore a becoming Napoleon-shaped hat of cream silk with large cream plume, and carried a lovely shower bouquet. The bridesmaids—Misses Ethel and Blanche Swayne—wore handsome Princess gowns of stone white pastel cloth, draped a la gracie, trimmed with charmeuse satin and buttons, richly braided bodices, opening over a yoke of tuck net, finished with a high Paris collar and ruffle; their hats were of amethyst straw and silk in the pretty new style, turned off the face, and trimmed with silk and large wings of the same shade. The mother of the bride wore a handsome black silk poplin gown with cream lace yoke, and trimmed with black silk motifs, black toque, relieved with mauve and gold mount; Miss Minnie Swayne (sister of the bride) wore a dainty white muslin frock with large brown hat trimmed with pale blue wings; Miss Katie Swayne wore a pretty embroidered frock of white muslin with beaming straw hat of the new mulberry shade and brown, trimmed with mulberry velvet and brown wings. (Cambridge correspondent).

STACE—CHAYTOR.

A quiet wedding took place last week at Marshlands, when Mr. Harvey Joseph Stace, son of Mr. Stace, Robin Hood Bay was married to Miss Jane Chaytor, daughter of Mr. J. C. Chaytor (Marshlands). The Rev. Wolstein, assisted by the Rev. Stace (brother of the bridegroom), performed the ceremony.

DILLON-KELLY—JACKSON.

The marriage of Miss Adele Winifred Jackson, third daughter of the late Captain Jackson (Indian Navy) to Mr. Louis Dillon-Kelly, second son of Dr. Dillon Kelly (Roscommon, Ireland) was solemnised at the R.C. Church, Lower Hutt, Wellington, on Wednesday, April 6th. The bride, who was given away by Captain R. Johnston, wore a lovely gown of white satin with an overdress of pearl embroidered chiffon, the bodice was draped with beautiful Limerick lace, the gift of the bridegroom's mother, attached to a wreath of orange blossom over a veil of embroidered tulle, and she carried a bouquet of white roses faintly tinged with pink. The bridesmaids were clad in dove grey crystalline, Miss Hilda Cliff wearing a black picture hat lined with palest pink, while the three little maids, Missie and Hector Lyndall and Roma Jackson, had quaintly becoming grey granny bonnets lined with pink chiffon; they all carried white fur muffs. Mr. Percy Jackson was best man. The reception was held at "Studley," the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Dillon-Kelly's going-away dress was of saxe blue cloth, the vest softened with Limerick lace; with this she wore a black picture hat. The bridegroom presented her with a gold and emerald pendant, Miss Cliff received a gold bangle, while to the children he gave Liberty bangles. Mrs. Jackson wore black silk, striped crepe de chine, with a lace yoke and a black and white toque. (Wellington correspondent).

MACKENZIE—MAGUIRE.

St. Mark's, Wellington, was the scene of a big wedding on April 7th, between Miss T. Maguire (only daughter of Mr. Alan Maguire), and Mr. Leonard S. McKenzie, Wellington. The bride, who was given away by her father, had a beautiful dress of ivory charmeuse draped with Brussels lace with here and there a glimpse of silver tissue. A small coronet of orange blossoms was worn under the Limerick lace veil, which had appeared at her mother's wedding. The bridesmaids, Misses St. John (Nelson), and Morris (Wellington) had charming dresses of cosmea pink ninon de soie with yokes of floelle lace. They carried bouquets of pink cosmea and feathery foliage, and wore black beaver hats looped with gold roses and cords. Mr. J. Gow was best man, and Mr. Maguire groomsmen. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a ruby and gold brooch, to the chief maid an amethyst brooch, and to the other maid a gold bangle. The Rev. A. M. Johnson, Vicar of St. Mark's, officiated. Mrs. Leonard Mackenzie's travelling dress was of amethyst cloth, smartly braided, her hat of the same shade was banded with gold tissue and trimmed with plumes. (Wellington correspondent).

RUDD—GOULD.

Mr. William George Rudd, of Oxford (Canterbury), eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rudd, of "The Grange," Grendale, was married to Miss Georgina Anyon Gould, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gould, of Denbigh-street, Feilding, on Tuesday, April 6th. The ceremony took place at the Primitive Methodist Church, the Rev. P. W. Jones officiating, assisted by the Rev. J. Clover. The bride's dress was of soft ivory Oriental satin, with the orthodox veil and orange blossoms. Miss Marion Gould, Miss Rudd and Miss Phyllis Gould were the bridesmaids, the two former wearing pale pink cloth costumes, black hats with pink roses; and the latter a dainty white muslin dress, with white picture hat. Mr. J. D. Rudd supported the groom as best man, with Mr. George Gould as groomsmen. After the ceremony the friends gathered at the residence of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Rudd left afterwards by motor-car for Palmerston, en route to the southern lakes, where the honeymoon will be spent, prior to taking up their new abode at Oxford. The bride's travelling dress was a brown cloth costume, with green hat. (Feilding correspondent).

COURT—ROBERTS.

A very dainty wedding was celebrated at St. Paul's Church, Cambridge, on Tuesday, April 5, when Miss Ella Gertrude Roberts, daughter of Mr. Charles Roberts, was married to Mr. George Alfred, son of Mr. F. W. Court, Onehunga, Auckland. The church was artistically decorated, a special feature being a large wedding bell made by the girl friends of the bride. The Rev. W. H. Beck performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very charming in a lovely white taffeta silk trimmed with real Valenciennes lace, medallions, and pearl ornaments. The bridal veil was arranged over a spray of orange blossoms, and she carried a handsome shower bouquet with silver ribbon streamers. She was attended by four bridesmaids, Misses Daisy Roberts, Erica Dickenson, One Roberts, and Lorna Wright, who were daintily attired in white French muslin frocks with pin tucks and lace insertion, and large white chip hats trimmed with long loops of white muslin and ostrich plumes. They carried shower bouquets of scarlet cactus, dahlias, and maiden-hair fern. The bridegroom presented the bride with a handsome pearl pendant and chain, and to the maid of honour an opal ring; to the second maid a pearl and emerald pendant and chain, and to the two little girls gold name brooches. Mr. George Court officiated as best man, and Mr. E. B. Davy as groomsmen. After the ceremony the guests were entertained to a sumptuous breakfast, when the usual toasts were proposed and duly honoured. The bride wore a pretty travelling dress of oyster grey warp taffeta with green facings and Oriental lace panel, and a green moire silk hat with wings and gold trimmings. Mrs. Roberts (mother of the bride) wore a reseda green tailor-made costume with black silk facings, and white hat with black plumes; Mrs. F. W. Court (mother of the bridegroom), black silk, black and white bonnet; Mrs.

W. Court, black silk, black hat; Mrs. Wright, cream dress, black hat; Mrs. Court (Cambridge), very stylish cream costume and hat; Mrs. Dickenson, black silk, black toque and white opey; Miss Dickenson, pale green costume, black hat; Mrs. Archdale Taylor (Auckland), pale grey Empire gown, large black hat; Mrs. Booth, black dress, black and white bonnet; Mrs. Culpin (Mt. Eden), white pique costume, black silk facings, black hat, silver corn; Mrs. Tudehope, green crepe de chine, violet hat; Mrs. Beck, black silk, black and white bonnet; Mrs. Vosper, green costume, green and gold hat; Mrs. M. Roberts, cream dress, green and violet hat; Mrs. Ernest Clarke, grey costume, black and white hat; Mrs. G. Booth, grey dress, cream lace, black hat; Mrs. Onions, black dress, black and violet hat; Miss Roberts, pale pink muslin and lace dress, hat wreathed with shaded roses; Miss Howell, black dress, black and white bonnet.

COOPER—CLUTTEN.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the Nelson Cathedral on March 29th, when Mr. W. G. Cooper, of Auckland, was married to Miss Celia Clutten, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Clutten, of Nelson. The decorations used in connection with the Easter celebrations had been allowed to remain in the church. The Rev. J. P. Kempthorne (vicar of Christ Church) performed the ceremony. The bride was attired in a lovely dress of rich merv. silk, trimmed with silk lace, and she wore a veil and a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of various white flowers, tied with hand-painted ribbons. Miss Dora Clutten (sister of the bride) and Miss Iven Everett were the bridesmaids. Miss Clutten wore a dress of pale blue crystalline, a black hat with colours to match, and she carried a bouquet of belladonna lilies. Miss Everett's dress was of pale pink crystalline, and she also wore a black hat with colours to match, and carried a bouquet of hydrangeas. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Bert Flett, of Auckland, as best man, and by Mr. Charles Morgan (of Nelson) as groomsmen. The bride's going-away costume was of fancy serge, of vieux rose, with black trimmings, and she wore a white waterway silk hat trimmed with white chiffon and ostrich plumes. After the ceremony a large number of guests were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Clutten at their residence at the Bank of New Zealand.

Grandmother used Bonnington's!

For over 46 years Bonnington's Irish Moss has been the standard cough remedy. Grandmother used it, your mother used it, and you probably use it yourself and give it to your children.

Bonnington's CARRAGEEN Irish Moss.

There is no medicine like it for breaking up coughs and colds, healing inflammation in the bronchial tubes and preventing serious lung troubles.

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

Get what you ask for, and ask for Bonnington's Irish Moss—there is no remedy "just as good."

