BROWNE—LUXFORD.

A VERY pretty wedding was solemnised at Trinity Wesleyan Church, Wanganui, on April 26th, when Mr. C. P. Browne was married to Miss Maude E. Luxford (eldest daughter of the Rev. J. A. Luxford, pastor of Trinity Church). The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Frank Luxford, of the Bay of Plenty, wore a very becoming gown of pale cream charmeuse, with tunic of cream chiffon, edged with satin. The bodice was of the same material, and made without a collar. The chiffon was veiled over it with fine Brussels lace. She wore an embroidered veil and a spray of orange blossoms, and carried a lovely shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums and ferns. The bridesmaids were Miss Gladys Luxford (sister of the bride) and Miss Elsie Kirk, of Christchurch. They wore pretty pale pink frocks, with net and lace vests, old rose shaded hats with crowns of folded silk, with buckle and touch of gold. Their shower bouquets were of pink cosmos and ferns. Mr. Stanley Brown (brother of the bridegroom) was best man. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring, and to the bridesmaids gold bangles. The officiating minister was the Rev. J. A. Luxford (father of the bride), assisted by the Rev. C. C. Griffin, of Marton. Mr. Randal presided at the organ, and several members of the choir were present to assist with the singing.

Mrs. J. A. Luxford (mother of the bride) wore a black crepe de chine gown with cream tulle net vest and under-sleeves, pretty pale shaded heliotrope toque. The bride's going-away frock was a smart sage blue tweed coat and skirt, Burberry hat to match. They left by motor car for the South, where the honeymoon is to be spent.

The church was very prettily decorated by the girl friends of the bride with white chrysanthemums and bamboo arches.
