

effluxion of time had been re-appointed: Hon. Dr. Collins and Mr. Gordon (by the Governor-in-Council), Hon. Mr. Allen, Hon. Sir Charles Bowen, Hon. Sir Robt. Stout, and Hon. Mr. Toke (by the governing bodies), Professor J. M. Brown and Mr. Tibbs (by the district Courts of Convocation), and Professor Chilton (by the Professional Board of Canterbury College). The Hon. Mr. Allen subsequently resigned, and the Rev. W. Hewitson, B.A., was elected in his place. The following new fellows had been elected: Professor Benham (by the Professional Board of Otago University), Professor Hunter (by the middle district Court of Convocation), and Professor Marshall (by the Otago Court of Convocation). Three of the members who sat in the last Senate, namely, Mr. Cohen, Professor Salmon, and Professor J. H. Scott, did not seek re-election, and their absence would be much regretted.

Referring to several gentlemen who had been connected with the University, and who had died since the last meeting of the Senate, the Chancellor observed that Dr. Henry Sweet was one of their examiners on several occasions. His eminence in the scholastic world was well known. The Rev. R. Stewart had been a supervisor of examinations in Greymouth for the past twenty years, and had performed his duties with credit to himself and with benefit to the University, and Mr. A. R. Barclay, LL.D., was a distinguished student who had been a lecturer at Otago University and Clerk of Convocation. The Chancellor also referred to two professors of affiliated colleges—Professor Black, of Otago University, and Professor Haslam, of Canterbury College—who had retired after bearing the heat and burden of the day, the former since 1871, and the latter since 1879. Sir Robert Stout stated his assurance that the Senate wished them well in their well-earned leisure.

Death of John Bryce.

A one-time notable figure in New Zealand politics in the person of the Hon. John Bryce died at his residence, Guyton Street, Wanganui, on Friday last. By the death of Mr. Bryce there is removed one of Wanganui's—in fact, one of New Zealand's—most distinguished pioneers. The late Mr. Bryce, then a child, arrived in New Zealand in 1840. He took an active part in the Maori War, and in this connection figured in a most sensational incident. In Ruden's "History of New Zealand" it was alleged that Mr. Bryce, when in charge of a troop of cavalry, slashed upon native women and children, cutting them down gleefully and with ease. Mr. Bryce went to England to vindicate his honour, and in a brief suit recovered damages.

The late Mr. Bryce was returned to Parliament as representative for Wanganui in 1871. He was then an Independent member. But when the Hall Ministry was formed in 1879 he was offered and accepted the portfolio of Minister for Native Affairs. This position he gave up, owing to a difference of opinion with his colleagues on a question of native policy, but in 1882 he again joined the Ministry when it had been reconstituted under Sir Frederick Whitaker, and he continued in office under the Premiership of Sir Harry (then Major) Atkinson until 1884, when the Stout-Vogel Ministry came into power.

In 1882 Mr. Bryce brought in and passed through Parliament his bill entitled the West Coast Preservation Bill, which was the means of breaking down the mana of Te Whiti. Under the authority of this Act, Te Whiti and Topu were made prisoners for illegal assembling, and were kept under control for a considerable period. Mr. Bryce also brought in and passed a bill during the same session to grant an amnesty to natives who had committed crimes during the wars.

In 1880 Mr. Bryce was elected for the Waikato, and became Leader of the Opposition when the Ballance Ministry was in power, but resigned his seat in the House under dramatic circumstances, and has not since entered Parliament.

Throughout his life he enjoyed the universal respect of his fellow countrymen. Though in retirement for over 20 years, he did not cease until quite recently to take a keen interest in political affairs, and in all matters affecting the well-being of the Dominion.

The following are the members of the late Mr. Bryce's family surviving: Mrs W. McKenzie, Marton; Mrs G. E. Jackson, Hamilton; Mrs T. Currie, Bromby; Mrs A. Duthie, Otingaiti; Mr T. Bryce, Kaitiaki; Mr J. J. Bryce, Pamberon; Mr A. R. Bryce, Marton; Mr J. A. Bryce, Cambridge.

NEW ZEALANDERS ABROAD.

LONDON, December 14.

The Hon. Thomas Mackenzie was among the distinguished company entertained by the company of Merchants of the City of Edinburgh, at a banquet given last Friday night at the Merchants' Hall. He was called upon to reply to the toast of "His Majesty's Dominions Beyond the Seas," proposed by Sir George McCrae, D.L. The High Commissioner spoke of the offers of battle-ships, and said the colonies meant these gifts to be supplementary. Until they were more closely in touch and in conference with the Imperial authorities their offers must be so regarded. There was a closer drawing together, and he was sure that the statesmen of the Empire would be equal to the task that would be placed upon their shoulders. There were great difficulties, but when they were more closely drawn together we would find the colonies would be prepared to share with us any Imperial responsibilities. They must stand together, and if they stood together they would be powerful for peace.

The Renuera, which sails for New Zealand on December 18th, will include in her passenger complement four non-commissioned officers of the Imperial Army, who have been placed at the disposal of the Dominion Government for three years for attachment to the N.G. Army Service Corps. They are Quartermaster-Sergeant J. J. Wass, Sergeant-Major J. W. F. Cahill, of the Horse Transport branch of the A.N.A., Staff Q.M.S. P. Petty, and Staff-Sergt. T. E. Ostler.

Among the members of the Royal College of Surgeons admitted as Fellows of the College this week was Mr. Ivan Stuart Wilson, M.R.C.S., of New Zealand, who is completing his medical studies at the London Hospital. At the same meeting of the committee Mr. Kenneth Mackenzie, of Otago University, who took his M.D. degree at Edinburgh, but was not a member of the College of Surgeons, was also admitted to Fellowship.

The High Commissioner was one of the guests at a luncheon given on Thursday by Sir George Reid at the British Empire Club, to meet Professor Wyndham Dunstan, F.R.S., Director of the Imperial Institute.

Callers at the High Commissioner's offices this week have been:—Mr. J. Thompson (Port Palmers), Mr. J. C. Hanna (Wellington), Miss Laura Bragelohle (Wellington), Miss Minnie Felton (Auckland), Mr. P. H. Powell (Christchurch), Mr. Ches. J. Moreton (Balclutha), Mr. John Beamish (Auckland), Miss M. E. King (Nelson).

AUCKLAND'S ART GALLERY.

TWO FINE PICTURES DONATED.

THE extensive alterations and rearrangements that have been going on in the Municipal Buildings, in Colberg Street, under the direction of the City Engineer's department, have practically reconstructed the interior, and some very necessary changes have been made for the safety of the treasures which are housed in the art gallery. Much of the accommodation that was formerly occupied by the officials of the City Council has been appropriated for the Mackelvie and City Galleries, the dividing partitions having been removed, and now there are pictures and objects of art in eight large rooms. An important innovation has been the building of a fireproof room for the Grey collection, and also the rare books and MSS. which were recently presented to Auckland by Mr. Henry Shaw. This room is situated just at the entrance to the Reference Library, and its provision will be greatly welcomed by those who realised the great danger from fire to which the Grey treasures have been exposed for so many years.

The Art Gallery has been so completely remodelled as to be unrecognisable, and the improvements have enabled a very necessary classification of works to be carried out. The City Gallery collection has been rearranged in three rooms, and a number of pictures not hitherto hung through lack of space will be displayed on the walls. One division of the main City Gallery is being entirely devoted to New Zealand art. Upstairs two rooms have been set apart for the Partridge collection of Maori paintings by Lindauer, and on the first floor the valuable collection of porcelain, rare jewellery, miniatures, etc., of the late Mr. Mackelvie, and the native curios of the Grey collection have been suitably housed.

The Mackelvie pictures are now hung in two galleries, the old Council Chamber having been placed at the disposal of the trustees, in addition to the gallery which was originally built for the collection. The smaller pictures are hung in one of the new rooms, and the larger canvasses have been re-hung in the old gallery. There are several blank spaces on the walls, but a large gap on the eastern wall will be shortly filled by a large canvas, 12 feet by 9 feet, painted by W. Frank Calderon, the famous figure and animal painter, the subject being Greek horsemen. The picture, which was selected by Sir Marcus Stott, was exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1905, and has been purchased out of the funds belonging to the Mackelvie bequest. It is intended to have four suitable settlers in the gallery, but otherwise the room will contain nothing but pictures—a principle which is followed in the Home galleries. The smaller pictures have been admirably hung, and the main gallery, when completed, will be eminently satisfactory. Mr. E. W. Poyton, who hung the pictures in the Mackelvie gallery, has carried out the difficult task most successfully.

In the City Gallery the three rooms have been allotted respectively to the work of Colonial artists, to the work of English and foreign artists, and to the Reade collection. Here, the Hanging Committee was pressed for space, and could have done with even more room. The new arrangement is a distinct gain in every way, and shows the pictures off to much better advantage.

"Christ in the Temple."

Mr David Goldie has presented to the city the remarkably fine picture painted by his son, Mr C. F. Goldie, and exhibited at the 1911 Exhibition of the Auckland Art Society, entitled "Christ in the Temple." Mr Goldie wrote to the Mayor as follows: "It has been strongly represented by Mr T. W. Leys, on behalf of yourself as chairman, and the other members of the Hanging Committee now engaged in arranging the new Art Gallery, that the picture depicting the child Christ engaged in controversy with the Hebrew doctors in the Temple, which was exhibited by my son, Mr C.
