

In the Public Eye.

The new Bishop of Auckland came to us with strong BISHOP NELIGAN. recommendations as a forcible and eloquent preacher, an organiser of no mean ability, and a keen educationalist. We have him now in our midst. He has preached to crowded churches, and his sermons are of that description—unfortunately far too rare—that hold the attention firmly riveted, not by dramatic or sensational effect, but by the broad and manly conceptions of religious duties which they contain. It has been a much debated question lately, why men do not go to church. Where the Bishop preaches that question certainly does not come in. One cannot say more than that.

The Most Rev. Moore Richard Neligan, Bishop of Auckland, M.A., D.D.
