The Official Calendar

AUCKLAND RACING CLUB.

"The Sporting Review" has been appointed the Official Calendar for the publication of all programmes in the Provincial District of Auckland, in terms of Rule 17 of the Rules of Racing.

Rule 17 reads:-"The programme of each meeting in which the added money is £150 or upwards must be advertised in full once at least in the Official Calendar. The advertisement shall show that the programme has been approved by the Jockey Club, shall state the days on which the meeting is to begin and end, and the names of the stewards, judge, starter, clerk of scales, and handicapper.

All notifications for the future published in this column are so published under the authority of the Auckland Racing Club, and are binding on country clubs and others, who must therefore duly note the same.

As some doubts have arisen as to whether the recent action of the Racing Conference has interfered with the appointment of the SPORTING REVIEW by the Auckland Racing Club as the Official Calendar, we publish the following letter for general information:—

MESSANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

D.E.C.—A horse narued Dandy won the Trial Hack Hurdle Race at the Manawatu R.C. Autumn Meeting on the 28th February, 1894. The dividend (£3 38) was paid out on Dandy, but the latter and his owner were subsequently disqualified for life for misrepresentation, and the stakes were awarded to Waterlily, who had run second to Dandy.

W.H.—It would be almost impossible to decide upon such a knotty point as you submit. Atmospheric conditions and the state of the race-track, and the manner which each won, would have to be taken into consideration. The report of the two meetings may have stated that the weather was fine, inferring that the course was dry, but it may not have been so. In the absence of these particulars, we are sorry we cannot assist you to decide the argument. In a general way we would favour Wainku's performance, because the weather had been inclement some time before the races, and the ground could not have been much in favour of fast time.

TURF GOSSIP.

THE NATIONAL ANTI-GAMBLING LEAGUE.

This meddlesome body, to put it very mildly, has started on the war-path again at Home, notwithstanding their crushing defeat when they tackled the Jockey Club stewards at Newmarket. But they want funds to get going. Well, as there is nothing particularly exciting in connection with the organisation, and no fat billets to be offered, we are afraid that the funds will be slow in coming in. "Ranger," of the Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News remarks, in his comments on the Anti-gamblers, as they term themselves: — "Anybody who has followed the proceedings of the self-styled National Anti-Gambling League will hardly be surprised to learn that they are sending round the hat. What is styled "An Appeal to the Nation," has recently appeared in the columns of several journals, asking pecuniary public support for the organisation. The list of signatories to this appeal is headed by the Bishop of London, and includes several more or less influential dignitaries of various religious bodies throughout the country. It is somewhat surprising that these gentlemen should have been persuaded to attach their names to statements which they caunot know to be true, and many of which they have ob-viously accepted on hearsny. I should be glad to know on what statistics they rely, when saying that betting and bookmaking are steadily increasing. Or what they mean when they state that the trade of professional betting men has been allowed till recently to grow quite unchecked. If they knew that the man Milbourne was not to be believed on his oath, it was clearly inconsistent with the high tone of morality that they arragate to themselves, to bring him forward as a witness in support of their case. If, on the other hand, they knew he was to be believed, it was equally inconsistent with their professions to suborn him to resume the, from their point of view, vicious and detestable practice of betting, which he asserted on oath that he had discontinued for some time previously. In either case the actions were not those of an association in any way worthy of public support. As to arousing public opinion, much has been done. But hardly in the direction that the signatories to the appeal appear to imagine. The real aim and object of the so-called League is now pretty well known, and the voice of the public, whenever it has had an opportunity of doing so, has emphatically pronounced against it and all its works While upon the subject it may be as well to recall the fact that in the Newmarket prosecution of the stewards of the Jockey Club a year ago, the Anti-Gambling League employed a man named Milbourne to go to Newmarket and make ready-money bets with certain bookmakers in the Ring for the purpose of subsequently using his betting transactions as evidence. I notice that the Bishop of London states that the funds of the League "are administered with economy." It came out in evidence that a portion of these funds were given to Milbourne to bet with. "The society," -the document goes on to say-" has already done much by its unselfish educational labours to arouse and improve public opinion." Well, the Milbourne
