Leger Jessie produced Rex, one of the most brilliant horses in the land, and to Cuirassier she threw Chasseur, the hero of the C.J.C. This year the bonnie chest-Stewards' Handicap. nut has no foal, but it is firmly believed that she nut has no foat, but it is firmly believed dual is is now in foat to Regel. Jessie's dam is a full-sister to the brilliant Calumny (winner of the Newmarket Handicap, etc.), and she, therefore, comes from one of the best running families south of the line. Brimful of quality, she is in deed a fit occupant for any stud in Australasia.

A bay mare well known to the whole of the Australasian turf world, next claims our attention, and she is none other than Friendship, one of the most brilliant performers of her day. Prior to coming to New Zealand this mare did good service in Australia in the "cerise and black" of that most successful trainer, Mr William Kelso, and here in our own land she electrified turf patrons on more than one occasion. Her good deeds are too fresh in the memory of sportsmen to need recapitulation here. She comes from a famous family, her sire, Reprieve (by Yattendon—Gazelle) being a great racehorse, as also were his brother and sister, Burwood and Pardon, and the latter is the dam of Mr W. Cooper's Lady Betty, who raced so well in England. On the dam's side Friendso well in England. On the dame ship loses nothing, as Nydia and all her tribe could, as old Jack Chaafe would say, gallop as could clap your hands. This year fast as you could clap your hands. This year Briendship has a bay filly at foot by Regel, and she is now on a visit to Cuirassier. This mare will be hard to beat in any Australasian stud.

A hay mare named May, by King Cole from

Friendship, is followed by a bay filly claiming as her sire Regel. This is a bonny youngster, as in-deed it should be from its breeding. Through producing Nelson, King Cole endeared himself to New Zealanders, but his laurels do not rest solely with Nelson, for the old chap sired some score of good ones, and it will be surprising indeed if this fine daughter of Friendship and the son of King Tom's son does not add fame to the family. May is possessed of great quality, and would be an ornament to any stud in the world, whilst the youngster at her side bears testimony to her worth as a matron.

As a big strapping brown mare comes along with a brown filly foal (marked with a small star) at foot, we find she is named Tio and she is by Brigadier from Pearl, who has been previously mentioned as being by The Barb from Ladybird This young mare should make a name for herself at the stud, and the youngster at her side bears good testimony for Regel, whom she has re-

Muriel is the name of a handsome bay mare by St. Leger from Lady Mary, by Towton (imp.) Muriel has a dashing chestnut filly by Regel her side, and this year she has paid a visit to Cuirassier. A rarely bred one is this same mare. for, in addition to St. Leger's good blood, she carries, the same blood on the dam's side as Darebin, as Towton was a full brother to Darebin's sire, The Peer. Small wonder then that her youngster knows how to move herself in a paddock-galiop.

Mysterious is the name of a big upstanding brown mare by Carbineer from Mystery, by The Painter from Fortuna. She is followed by an immense bay colt, marked with a small star. Full of dignity and importance is this son of Regel and he at once shows hatred to members of the Fourth Estate. A reference to the "Stud Book" tells us that Carbineer is by good old Musket from Uns, by St. Aubyn from Miss Rowe, by Sir Hercules. With the cross of The Painter given in, nothing better can be desired, for be it remembered that The Painter was by The Marquis (sire of Newminster, etc.) from Art Union, by Ferryman (son of Fisherman) from Gilder mere, by Flying Dutchman. Look at this pedigree as we may it is hard to fault, and Mysterious should cause some spirited bidding.

A bay mare with a small star and two white hind feet is named Vacator, and she is by Captivator (imp.) from Vacillation, by Knottingley from Alalanta. This handsome mare is followed by a clashing bay colt foal by Regel, whom she has re-visited The foal is a highly creditable specimen, and proves Vasator's worth as a brood mare. Her owners entertain a high opinion of Vasator, and, on breeding alone, this opinion is justifiable.

A handrome flea bitten grey mare attracts attention at once, and an enquiry elicits the information that her name is Pearl, by The Barb from Ladybird. Pearl has evidently thrown back to the dam's side of The Barb's family, which accounted for numerous greys, whilst he was a jet black himself. In Australia mares by the "black demon," as he was called, are now much prized. Cinnamon (the dam of the mighty Abercorn) was a daughter of John Tait's old pet, and there are scores of others helping to keep his memory green. Pearl is a creditable representative of the family.

This completed our inspection, and we could not but express regret at the breaking-up of such a nice little stud. Although the Messrs Alison are giving up breeding, it is pleasing to know that they will still continue to race a few horses.

ACCEPTANCES.
