Our Illustrations.

Our illustrations in this issue are mostly theatrical, and as the majority takes priority of place we refer to them first. Mr H. R. Roberts appears as John Stofel, and Miss Maggie Moore as Lizzie Stofel, in "Struck Oil," the production that they put on first at the Opera House. The portraits are both excellent, and will be appreciated by our readers in the South, who have already had the pleasure of witnessing these two artists. The portrait of Miss May Beatty gives an especially good representation of that talented young lady, who will be immediately recognised by her many friends and admirers throughout the colony. Miss Campion and Mr Percy appear in "The Gay Parisienne" costumes, the former as Julie Bon Bon and the latter as Pompier. The artist has caught their attitudes most cessfully, and has produced a happy result. Miss Linda Raymond, whose likeness appears on the thestrical page, is with the company playing at the Opera House, and has made herself very popular with theatre-goers here. We also give a portrait of Arthur Pearson, that aterling runner whose latest victories were achieved last Saturday at the Domain, on the occasion of the Hibernian Society's Sports. Pearson won the Mile Handicap from the 50yds mark in 4.31 and the Half-mile from scatch in 2.2. Pearson is in his 30th year, and his running during the past season has been better than : any time in his prosperous career on the path. During the past few months he has been successful in sprint and distance races at the Domain, at the Exhibition sports, and in country meetings. We believe that it is a fact that Pearson has not been unplaced in any event this season. Such a record speaks for itself. Pearson was trained for all his races by "Scotty" Healey.

Another picture is that of the much-talked-of Sydney yacht, White Wings, owned by that popular yachting enthusiast, Mr S. Hordern. Like Rainbow in Auckland, White Wings is about "boss of the show" over Sydney way, and the match between these two, which is more than likely to come off next season, will be swaited with interest. As the photo. will show, she is a graceful-looking craft, although, from an

the state of view, her topmast rig gives her a rather old-fashioned appearance. White Wings was built in Sydney, but she was designed in the Old Country by Fife. She is about 48ft over-all, 31ft on the water line, 11ft beam, and carries a lead keel and plate, which give her a draught of 4ft 6in and 10ft respectively.

Our cyclist readers will appreciate the illustration of sheep being driven by cyclists at Hawke's

Last week we omitted to mention that the photograph of the mare Quinine, winner of the jumping contest at Te Aroha, was taken by Mr R. E. Crombie, of Te Aroha. We regret the omission and this week make amends.
