GOLF.

THE FEILDING GOLF COURSE.

The Feilding Golf Course of nine holes, portion of which is shown in the accompanying illustration, is prettily situated on the left bank of the Oroua, just a mile from the centre of the town. It is one of the handiest courses in the Dominion. The land being river deposit is very dry in winter. The greens are very fair, but it is the intention of the Club to have greens as fine as it is possible to make them.

MISS WAYMOUTH, Captain of the Feilding Ladies' Golf Club.

Like all other clubs, the Feilding Golf Club is suffering from loss of membership owing to the war; still, it is able to keep the flag flying, and hopes to welcome the boys home after peace has been declared. The present course is the fourth the Feilding Golf Club has played over. The first (opened about twenty-six years' ago) is terraced with fine residences. Last year's championship was won by H. C. Stringer, while the Ladies' Championship was won for the second time in succession by Mrs. J. S. Tingey, a portrait of whom appears on our Social Page.

CAULFIELD FUTURITY STAKES.

DESERT GOLD DEFEATED.

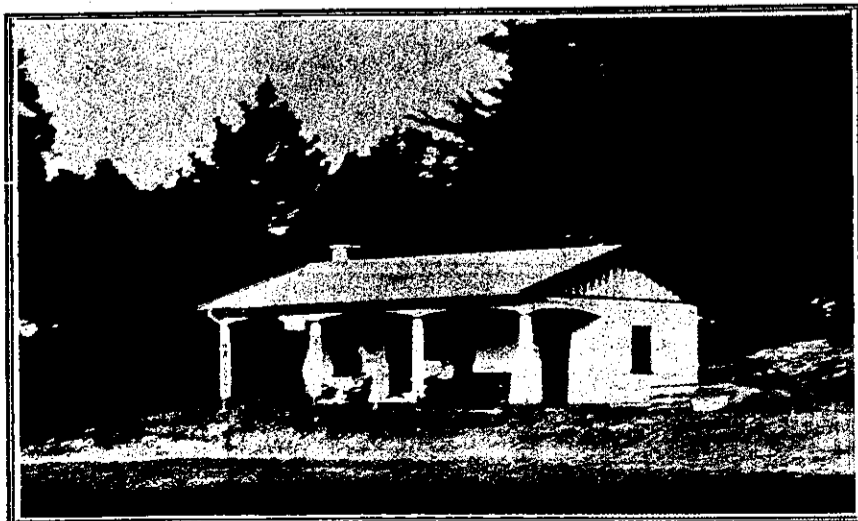

The weather was fine on Saturday for the concluding day of the Victoria Amateur Turf Club's autumn meeting. After the overnight rain the course at Caulfield was damp. The principal event was the Twenty-first Caulfield Futurity Stakes (seven furlongs), in which the crack New Zealand mare, Desert Gold, who on the opening day of the meeting the previous Saturday decisively defeated her opponents in the St. George's Stakes (nine furlongs), was seen in action. The following were the results of the Stakes and Steeplechase:
