Quality
Car

THE Crossley "After-the-War" motor car will show refinements over the pre-war models. The quality will be the same, for there is only one Crossley quality, as is demonstrated by the sixty years fame of the Crossley Gas Engine. But there will be additional features in the new car which will minister to motoring pleasures and motoring safety. They will be the direct outcome of exceptional experience gained by Crossley's in executing giant war contracts for the British and Allied Governments.

Exceptional requirements have had to be met with exceptional engineering genius. Crossley's have been selected to do much of the special work, and in consequence future Crossley car owners will reap the benefit of this recent experience in addition to that secured during sixty years manufacturing of the world's finest gas engine.
