ENDURANCE.

ENDURANCE is a natural consequence of quality.

This has been convincingly demonstrated in the performance of Crossley cars at the Front. They have endured the excessive strain of war service in a way that would seem almost impossible to the ordinary motorist; they have set a new standard for reliability; they have accomplished unprecedented tasks and fulfilled the most unyielding demands.

Such performance has not only enhanced the reputation of the Crossley as "The Quality Car," but in addition, has created for it the title of "The Car of Endurance."

Wait for the new Crossley, the Quality Car of proved Endurance.
