The First Loss the Best.

Every kind of loss is bad, at least to the loser; yet a loss in business is best and wisest if made at first, rather than the staving off of the fatal day.

That is just why A. J. OBORN, BOOT RETAILER, OF 240 HOBSON STREET, has decided to cut his loss now and throw his surplus stock on the market at whatever price it will fetch.

At present his stock is far too heavy, and must be reduced, come what may, even though to do so involves a temporary loss.

Certain it is that at the prices marked, the Goods will be swept out in double quick time.

THIS SWEEP HAS COMMENCED.
