Inquiry is made for him at the instance of William Dorman, farmer, Springfield, near Malverna.

At 8.30 p.m. on the 29th ultimo, Edward Brown left the New River Hotel, near Invercargill, saying that he was going to Mr. Hitchcock's to seek employment, and has not since been heard of. Description: Scotch, a labourer, sixty-two years of age, 5 feet 6 inches high, medium build, dark complexion, hair turning grey, grey whiskers and moustache, round-shouldered, feeble appearance. When he left the hotel he was under the influence of liquor, and it is feared he fell into the river and has been drowned.

LACHLAN LANGLANDS has been found. He is at present employed rabbiting on Longridge Station, near Lumsden, Southland.

INFORMATION is requested respecting the whereabouts of Captain Shepherd Giles, who shipped at Sydney on the 8th October, 1872, as master of the schooner "Cynthia," bound for Napier. The schooner was then owned by Captain Brown, of Victoria. In July, 1873, the "Cynthia" went ashore at Hokitika, where Captain Giles left her, and the vessel was subsequently sold to Messrs. Greenfield and Stewart, of Wellington. Captain Giles was next heard of at Lyttelton as master of the schooner "Canterbury." Inquiry is made for him at the request of the Inspector-General of Police, New South Wales.

Deserters from Merchant Vessels.
