£200 Reward.—Murder.

JOHN CAFFERY, master of the cutter "Sovereign of the Seas," and Henry Albert Penn, the mate, are charged, on Coroner's warrant, with having, on the morning of the 19th ultimo, murdered Robert Taylor, by shooting him dead in his house, at Great Barrier Island, near Auckland. Description of offenders. Caffery is a native of the colony, a seaman and labourer, about thirty-six years of age, but looks older, about 5ft. 7in. high, square stout build, about 12 stone weight, brown hair, sandy complexion, face freckled, sandy or brownish goatee and moustache with a reddish tinge, rather small weak greyish eyes, occasionally wears gold earrings, scar on left eyebrow, a star tattooed on right forearm and an anchor on left arm, boil-marks and a mole on right side. Penn is a native of the colony, a seaman and labourer, twenty-four years of age, about 5ft. 7in. high, slight build, fair complexion but inclined to sallowness, dark eyes, brown hair, and small brown moustache. £200 reward is offered by the Government for their arrest, or £100 for such information as will lead to their arrest. After committing the murder they went to sea in the cutter. Description of cutter: Twenty-nine tons register, cutter-rig, bulwarks painted white, with a yellow stripe round centre, hull black, her name is painted in black letters on both bows and on the stern, registered No. 52415; has a new set of sails. Search has been made along the coast for the cutter and the offenders, but no tidings of them can be obtained, so that they have no doubt left the colony in her. Offenders and a young woman named Grace Reid, alias Grace Graham, are supposed to be the only persons on board. She is a native of Gisborne, a prostitute, about sixteen years of age, about 4ft. 10in. high, medium build, brown hair, pale complexion, HP tattooed on left arm, and WS on one of legs above the knee.

of £35. At an inquest held on the 30th ultimo to inquire as to the cause of the fire the following verdict was returned: "That the place was set on fire, but how and by what means there was no evidence to show the said jurors." The premises were insured in the Colonial Office for £200, which amount seems to be greatly in excess of their value.

ABOUT 1.30 a.m. on the 18th ultimo, at Otaria, Southland District, a threshing-mill, the property of Alexander Campbell, value about £100, was maliciously set on fire, by which it was destroyed. It was insured in the Australian Mercantile Union Office for £125.
