SPECIAL NOTICE.

Murder.

WAIROA.—About the 11th instant, two maiden sisters, Rosamond Jane Smyth, age seventy-one, and Annie Smyth, age sixty-three, were murdered in their home, Queen Street. Injuries to their heads were apparently inflicted by an axe, which was kept in the washhouse, and a stove-lid lifter, which was found on the kitchen hearth. The deceased lived together in a dwelling attached to the Salvation Army Hall. On the 21st instant, when the police entered the house Rosamond Jane Smyth was found lying dead on a bedroom floor, and Annie Smyth was found lying dead on a Morris chair in the kitchen. The clothing of each had been lifted up and the underclothing pulled down exposing their private parts. The post-mortem examination did not reveal any evidence of rape and there is no evidence of robbery. Rosamond Jane Smyth, who was known to have been deaf, had ordered a bag of wood on the 10th instant, and this was delivered by the dealer on the following day when he did not receive any response to his knock at the door. Annie Smyth had been seen at about 9.30 a.m. that day, and mail delivered by the postwoman had accumulated since then.

INSTRUCTIONS TO CANDIDATES.

1. You are expected to be in your place before the time appointed for each paper, and on no account will you be allowed to enter the examination-room after the examination has commenced. You must be prepared to remain in the room until you have finished the paper set for the morning or afternoon, as the case may be, or until the time allowed for the paper has expired.

2. You must not consult any book or notes, or communicate in any way with any other candidate in the examination-room. The Supervisor has authority to order any candidate who disobeys this instruction to withdraw from the examination.

3. Write on both sides of the paper, except the last sheet, of which only one side should be used for answers. Write your examination number at the top of every sheet of your answers, YOUR NAME IS NOT TO BE WRITTEN THEREON. Do not write out the questions, but put the number of the question before each answer. Leave a one inch margin to each sheet and a clear space of one inch between one answer and another. You may write the answers in any order, but the number of the question must be prefixed to its answer.

4. Fasten together with the paper-fasteners provided for the purpose all the sheets containing your answers to any one paper, and on the back of the last sheet write your examination number, the subject, and the number of sheets. Be careful not to omit any sheet of your answers. Do not fold the sheets.

5. When you have finished your answers to any one paper do not leave them on the table at which you have been sitting, but hand them to the Supervisor.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE GUIDANCE OF SUPERVISORS.

The examinations will be held in the order and at the times prescribed in the time-table, which will be supplied to each Supervisor and candidate.

The Supervisor shall be present during the entire examination, and he is not to answer any inquiry or express any opinion as to the meaning of any question in the examination-papers. He will allot a seat to each candidate at each sitting, and not allow any to choose his own.

Pens, ink, ruled foolscap paper, blotting-paper, pins, and paper-fasteners will be supplied to each candidate at each sitting as he takes his seat in the examination-room.

Candidates shall not be permitted to speak to one another or communicate with any person in the room except the Supervisor, and with that exception strict silence must be observed during the examination.

Any candidate detected in the examination-room in possession of any book or manuscript brought in for his assistance, or in copying from the papers of another candidate, or permitting his own papers to be copied, or in attempting to give or receive assistance of any description, will be disqualified; his examination will be discontinued, and the circumstances reported to the Commissioner.

No candidate shall be permitted to leave the room during the hours of examination without finally giving up his papers, except to obey a call of nature. In such case the Supervisor should arrange for an officer or non-commissioned officer to take his place while he accompanies the candidate, who leaves the room, to see that he does not consult any books or notes during his absence from the examination room. Any candidate arriving after the examination has commenced shall not be admitted.

Any candidate who may have finished his replies to the questions in his examination-paper before the expiry of the time allowed may deliver them to the Supervisor and retire from the room.

The examination-papers will be sent in sealed packets to the Supervisor, who will keep them locked up under his own special care until he takes them to the examination-room.

At the hour prescribed in the time-table for the commencement of the examination in each particular subject the Supervisor will break the seal and open the packet containing the examination-papers in the presence of all the candidates sitting for that subject, and then distribute the sealed envelopes contained in the packet to the candidates to whom they are addressed.

Each candidate will be given an examination number, which he is to record plainly at the top of each sheet of paper handed in by him containing his replies to questions in the examination-paper. A candidate's name must on no account appear on any paper or map handed in by him.

At or before the hour prescribed for the closing of the examination in each subject, each candidate will hand to the Supervisor the papers containing his replies to the questions in such subject. As he receives each set of papers the Supervisor, after satisfying himself that the candidate's examination number is plainly inserted at the top of each paper handed in, will place them in a large envelope prepared for that purpose. When all the candidates' papers have been received, the Supervisor will secure and seal the envelope and cause it to be despatched forthwith by registered post to the Commissioner, after first marking on the bottom left-hand corner the date and hour it left his hands to be posted.

Memorandum.]

Licensing Act Emergency Regulations 1942 (No. 2), Serial Number 1942/186.

All members of the Force must make themselves thoroughly conversant with the provisions of the Licensing Act Emergency Regulations 1942 (No. 2), and in particular with those provisions relating to the restrictions upon the sale, supply, and consumption of intoxicating liquor in licensed premises and chartered clubs; drinking by fire-watchers; drinking in railway trains and in public vehicles; the supply of liquor to members of the armed forces; and the exceptions provided in the Regulations.

Members of the Force who are inspectors of chartered clubs should make regular inspections of such clubs, and if it is found that the regulations are not being complied with, a report should be furnished for transmission to the Minister of Internal Affairs.

It is not desired that members of the armed forces be prosecuted for breaches of the regulations (other than Regulation No. 4) or for being found on licensed premises, and section 54 of the Justices of the Peace Act, 1927, must not be invoked to prosecute servicemen. Action should be directed against those who illegally supply them with liquor. Action should not, however, be taken in petty cases, particularly in cases where the offender is a near relative of the serviceman. Attention is directed to the definition of "Member of an armed force."

In all instances of breaches of the regulations relating to the advertising of liquor the circumstances must be fully reported and the file submitted to this office.

Regulation No. 19 will assist the police in suppressing the evils arising out of the manufacture of home brew, particularly amongst the Maoris.

The police must before exercising the powers given them by Regulation No. 20 have reasonable cause to believe that an offence referred to in the Regulation has been or is about to be committed. Entry upon insufficient grounds or seizure of liquor under Regulation 4 (3) or 7 (3) without reasonable cause is liable to bring discredit on the Department. In the detection of sly-grog selling members of the Force will avail themselves of the provisions of Regulation No. 24.

Attention is also directed to Regulation No. 23 and to the provisions relating to the cancellation of Publicans' Licenses, and special attention to Regulation No. 8 (c) that the licensee has failed to conduct the licensed premises in a proper manner. If a licensee knowingly permits bookmakers to use the premises as a gaming-house, it would give grounds for an application under the section. In all cases where it is considered that an application for the cancellation of a license should be made a brief must be prepared and submitted to this office.

Except as directed in paragraph 3 of these instructions the regulations must be strictly enforced.

D. J. CUMMINGS, Commissioner of Police.

Wellington, 25th August, 1942.

(c) That each light-source is reduced in power to such extent as may be considered necessary by the Local Lighting Controller.

4. In the case of premises within any coastal area, not being premises visible from the open sea, and not being situated within an area visible from the open sea,—

(a) Illuminated signs mounted on the undersides of verandas may be used during daylight hours, but shall be disconnected during hours of darkness:

(b) External lights used solely for the lighting of the approaches to the premises may be used at night provided that no light is emitted above an angle of 5 degrees below horizontal, and that the power of each light-source does not exceed 60 watts.

5. In the case of premises themselves not visible from the open sea, and situated outside any coastal area,—

(a) External lights of any description may be used during daylight hours, but shall be disconnected during hours of darkness:

(b) External lights used for the lighting of the approaches to the premises may be used at night.

6. Every external light-source that is visible from any of the waters of any of the following harbours—namely, Waitemata Harbour, Port Nicholson, Lyttelton Harbour, Otago Harbour, Greymouth, Westport, Oamaru, Timaru, Picton, Napier, Gisborne, and New Plymouth—shall be shrouded so that neither the light nor its shroud nor its support can be seen from any part of the harbour, and so that no undue amount of light therefrom may escape on to, or be reflected by, nearby premises or structures.

7. External lights may be used at night for the lighting of railway shunting yards and tracks, Harbour Board wharves, ships being loaded or unloaded, ships being built or repaired, and air ports, so long as the lights are shrouded and reduced in power in accordance with orders given by the Controller in respect of any particular lights or class of lights.

8. At Waitemata Harbour, Port Nicholson, Lyttelton Harbour, and Otago Harbour, and at Greymouth, Westport, Oamaru, Timaru, Picton, Napier, Gisborne, and New Plymouth, all wharf working lights and railway yard lights shall be screened so that as far as is practicable without interfering unduly with working conditions each source of light and its shroud cannot be seen from any part of the harbour.

9. With the prior approval of the Local Lighting Controller, and subject to such conditions and restrictions as he may impose in each case, open spaces situated within any coastal area, not being spaces visible from the open sea, and not being situated within areas visible from the open sea, may be lighted at night for the training of any branch of the Emergency Reserve Corps, so long as every light-source is adequately shaded and so reduced or limited in power as to avoid any possibility of sky glow.

10. Open spaces situated outside any coastal area may be lighted at night for any purpose, so long as the power of the lights is restricted to the extent necessary to prevent sky-glow being visible from any point ten miles or more out to the open sea.

11. Fires may be made and maintained in the open during daylight hours, but every such fire shall be kept under such control as will assure it being completely extinguished by sunset.

12. This Order shall not apply to navigation lights exhibited with the consent and in accordance with the instructions of the Naval Board or the Air Board, nor to the use, in accordance with the terms of approval thereof, of any harbour light or aircraft obstruction light that is approved by the Controller.

Order No. 3: Road and Street Lighting.

1. Every electric-discharge lamp used as a road or street light-source shall be replaced by an incandescent filament lamp complying with clauses 2 and 4 of this Order.

2. Every road and street light-source visible from the open sea or from any of the waters of any of the following harbours—namely, Waitemata Harbour, Port Nicholson, Lyttelton Harbour, Otago Harbour, Greymouth, Westport, Oamaru, Timaru, Picton, Napier, Gisborne, and New Plymouth—shall be so shrouded and the power so adjusted that neither the source nor the shroud nor the support is visible with unaided vision during hours of darkness from any point one mile or more out to the open sea, or any point within the harbour, and so that no undue amount of light therefrom may escape on to, or be reflected by, nearby premises or structures.

3. Every road and street light-source that is situated within any coastal area, and that is not visible from the open sea, shall be so shrouded that no light is emitted above an angle of five degrees below horizontal.

4. The power of every road and street light-source shall be so adjusted that the sky glow from the lighting system of which it is a part shall not be visible with unaided vision from any point ten miles or more out to the open sea.

5. Except where the Controller has authorized or required the removal of any light, every road and street lighting system and part thereof shall be maintained with at least the number of light points provided on the 20th day of February, 1941, but these shall be shrouded and adjusted in power in accordance with this Order.

INTERNAL LIGHTING.

Order No. 4: General.

1. Every screen and shroud required by this Order to be provided shall be used to prevent the emission of light throughout hours of darkness.

2. Subject to the provisions of clause 3 of this Order,—

(a) For every window and skylight visible from the open sea through which light might otherwise be emitted, a blackout screen shall be provided:

(b) For every window and skylight not visible from the open sea through which light might otherwise be emitted, a brownout screen shall be provided. Any window so covered may be partly opened for ventilation so long as each interior light-source is so situated or shrouded that there is no direct emission of light from the light-source through the opening.

3. The provisions of paragraph (b) of clause 2 of this Order shall not apply to any skylight not visible from the open sea, so long as the following conditions are complied with, namely:—

- (a) That each interior light-source is itself so shrouded with an opaque reflector that no direct light from the source passes above the horizontal; and
- (b) That in the opinion of the Local Lighting Controller there is no excessive contribution to sky glow by light reflected through the skylight from the interior.

4. (1) Every doorway visible from the open sea shall, in addition to its door, be provided with a blackout screen if by the opening of the door light is permitted to be visible from the open sea.

(2) If light might otherwise escape from any doorway not visible from the open sea, the door shall be kept closed at all times during hours of darkness, except to the extent required for ingress and egress.

5. (1) Subject to the provisions of Order No. 5 hereof, unless there is a responsible person in attendance on the premises to operate the light-control switches, or unless all windows and skylights from which light might otherwise escape are covered by blackout screens, all lights shall remain switched off during hours of darkness. For the purpose of this order a responsible person is a person of the age of fourteen years or over.

(2) Subject to the provisions of Order No. 5 hereof, no light inside any premises shall be left on time-switch control.

Order No. 5: Interior Police Inspection Lights.

Notwithstanding the provisions of clause 5 of Order No. 4 hereof, the Chairman of the Central Committee of the Emergency Precautions Service in any district may, with the approval of the Senior Police Officer in that district, permit to remain unswitched sufficient window space for police inspection purposes, and permit to be displayed unattended interior lights necessary to allow the inspection of strong-room and safe doors, so long as the following conditions are complied with, namely:—

- (a) That every application for such police inspection lighting bears the approval of both the police officer and the Chairman before the dispensation is put into operation; and
- (b) That the illumination and unswitched window space shall not be more than is necessary for the door of the safe or strong-room to be sufficiently visible for the purpose of night inspection from a position immediately outside the premises; and
- (c) That the degree of illumination, and the method of providing it, shall be subject to the approval of the Local Lighting Controller; and
- (d) That the light-source shall be contained within an opaque reflector so that the light emitted from the reflector is restricted approximately to the door of the safe or strong-room; and
- (e) That the reflector and the light-source shall be rigidly fixed so that neither can swing or tilt; and
- (f) That every such dispensation shall be revocable at any time, and shall automatically be revoked immediately upon any breach of these conditions.

Order No. 6: Shop-front and Window Lighting.

1. Every screen and shield required by this Order to be provided shall be used to prevent the emission of light throughout hours of darkness.

2. Every doorway visible from the open sea shall, in addition to its door, be provided with a blackout screen if by the opening of the door light is permitted to be visible from the open sea.

3. Every shop window visible from the open sea shall have the window lighting disconnected and, unless completely separated from the interior by opaque material, shall be provided with a blackout screen.

4. Every open shop-front visible from the open sea shall have provision for the front to be completely covered by blackout screens.

5. In the case of any shop window or open shop-front not visible from the open sea, instead of a brownout screen being provided for the window or shop-front, the lights may be displayed so long as the following conditions are complied with, namely:—

- (a) That the lights are shielded by means of a pelmet or pelmets of opaque material, or by opaque paint, so that no light-source can be seen from any point outside the shop; and
- (b) That the total power of the window and shop light-sources is regulated so that the amount of light emitted from the window and the interior, as measured in the street at any point on a vertical plane 4 ft. above street-level at a distance of 6 ft. from the building-line, does not exceed 0.1 (one-tenth) of a foot candle; and
- (c) That no individual light-source in the shop window exceeds in light output that of a 60 watt tungsten filament general service electric lamp.

Order No. 7: Seaside Abodes.

1. In this order, unless the context otherwise requires,—

“Abode” includes any building, house, bach, caravan, tent, or structure, whether or not completely enclosed, whether movable or fixed to the soil, and irrespective of the material of which it is made;

“Seaside abode” means any abode at a seaside holiday resort that may be sited for the night at a place that is visible from the open sea, or that might, if its windows were not suitably screened, contribute to sky glow that might be visible from the open sea;

“Owner of any seaside abode” means the person who lets the abode for short periods, whether he be the true owner or a lessee or other tenant of the true owner.

2. The owner of any seaside abode, before giving possession hereafter of the whole or any part thereof to any other person or persons, shall fit or provide a blackout screen for each window and skylight thereof, and thereafter shall maintain every such blackout screen in good repair and condition for use by all persons occupying, or who may occupy, such seaside abode.

3. The occupier of every seaside abode for which the owner has provided blackout screens shall, before yielding up vacant possession thereof, put every blackout screen provided for the abode in good order and condition.

PART III.—PROVISIONS FOR LIGHTING RESTRICTIONS DURING PERIODS OF EMERGENCY.

EXTERNAL LIGHTING.

Order No. 8: Centralized Switch Control.

1. In every external lighting system, except where exemption in writing is given by the Controller, provision shall be made so that every light may be disconnected immediately upon the sounding of any emergency warning signal.

2. Road and street lighting circuits in any lighting system shall be so grouped that they can be immediately switched off on the sounding of any emergency warning signal.

3. For the purposes of this order the expression “external lighting system” includes road and street lighting, harbour wharf lighting, yard lighting, external premises lighting, road traffic signal lighting, and tramway track lighting.

Order No. 9: Torches.

1. Any person may, for any necessary purpose, use a hand torch-light during any period of emergency so long as the light so used complies with the provisions of clause 2 hereof.

2. Every torch used during any period of emergency shall have the aperture through which light is emitted totally obscured with the exception of a circular area of $\frac{1}{2}$ in. diameter, covered with a diffusing medium equivalent in light obscuration properties to not less than those of a single thickness of white tissue paper.

Order No. 10: Aids to Movement.

At every place to which the public have unrestricted access and at which the interests of public safety usually require the provision of special warning lights, or of added lighting, provision for safety shall be made by the responsible person or authority by means of white painted surfaces, or white painted barriers, to give warning of the danger.

Order No. 11: Permitted Lights.

Nothing in this part of these Orders shall apply to any lights expressly permitted or required to be displayed under the Lighting Restrictions Emergency Regulations 1941, or by direction of the Controller.

INTERNAL LIGHTING.

Order No. 12: Provision for Blacked-out Space.

1. Every occupier of premises shall forthwith make, and at all times hereafter maintain, provision for the complete blacking out at any time for an indeterminate number of hours of a room or rooms that provide enough accommodation for the greatest number of persons that may be in the premises at any time during hours of darkness.

2. In all premises where any person or persons may be required to work during any period of emergency every window and every skylight and every doorway shall be provided with a blackout screen which can be placed in position immediately on the sounding of any emergency warning signal.

3. In any premises, other than a dwellinghouse, apartment, boardinghouse, flat, lodging, or hotel, that are not used during hours of darkness, or in respect of which a scheme of evacuation in any period of emergency has been approved by the Chairman of the Emergency Precautions Service in the district in which the premises are situated, the Chairman may, in writing signed by him, exempt the occupier of the premises from the requirements of clause 1 hereof: Provided that, notwithstanding any such exemption, the occupier shall provide sufficient blacked-out space for the accommodation of all persons required to be on duty or directed to remain on the premises during any period of emergency.

4. If in the case of any premises the Controller at any time orders that provision be made immediately for the complete blacking out of those premises, such order shall be deemed to require that provision, as required by clause 1 hereof, be made in respect of the whole of the premises or such parts thereof as the order may specify.

PART IV.—SPECIAL PROVISIONS AFFECTING PUBLIC SERVICES.

Order No. 13: Detection and Repair of Line Faults.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any other Order, any authorized officer of an Electric Supply Authority, Tramway Authority, or Government Department, while engaged in locating and repairing any break or fault in any telephone, telegraph, or electric line, may use not more than one spotlight either during or outside periods of emergency. The use of every such spotlight shall be as sparing as possible, and shall be restricted to the work of locating and repairing such faults and breaks.

Order No. 14: Signal Lights.

1. Subject to the provisions of clause 2 of this Order, nothing in Parts I, II, and III hereof shall apply to traffic-signal lights of any railway or tramway.

2. As far as is practicable and consistent with safe conduct of traffic, every such light shall be shrouded and the power of the light-source reduced.

3. The brightness of any illuminated destination and route sign on any tram-car shall be no more than is required for the inscription on it to be just legible at night, under the conditions of street lighting permitted under Part II of these Orders, to persons of normal vision standing at a distance of 100 ft. in front of the sign.

Order No. 16: Tram Stop Indicators.

Every tram stop along every tram-car route in every area visible from the open sea shall be identified by a light-source that is coloured and illuminated and of a size and brightness just sufficient for adjacent stop indicators to be readily visible at half the distance between the tram stops.

Order No. 17: Aids to Vision.

1. Every window in the partition between the driver and passenger accommodation of every tram-car shall be covered by a screen sufficient to prevent any image of the interior appearing in the windscreen.

2. The front windscreen of every tram-car shall be equipped with an efficient windscreen wiper to prevent interference with the driver's vision by weather conditions.

3. In every area visible from the open sea both points giving entry to any loop line or crossover shall be enclosed within a circular area painted white, and having a diameter of not less than 5 ft. in the case of tracks 3 ft. 6 in. wide, and not less than 6 ft. 6 in. in the case of tracks 4 ft. 8 in. wide, or shall be indicated by the painting of white marks not less effective than those described herein.
