Totalisators.

The Solicitor-General advises that the practice adopted by some racing clubs of having more than three totalisators at work at their meetings, and declaring one dividend on the total amount invested on the various machines, is contrary to section 46, subsection (3), of "The Gaming and Lotteries Act, 1881."

The Police will notify all secretaries of clubs where such machines are used in excess of the number allowed by law that in the event of that number being exceeded in future action will be taken.
