SPECIAL NOTICES.

AUCKLAND.—The above are photographs of an instrument found on the 3rd ultimo hidden in the yard of Messrs Morrin and Fenwick, High Street, which had been used to cut open the safe. (See Police Gazette, 1925, page 485). The instrument is made of  $1\frac{1}{4}$  in. by  $\frac{3}{8}$  in. oil-hardened spring steel, arranged in two sections, each about 2 ft. long, which may be carried in a folded condition, and when required for use the sections are bolted together as shown in the photographs. A hole is bored in the side or back of the safe, the blade is inserted, and the instrument operated in the same manner as a tin-opener. The steel from which the implement was made was purchased from Messrs. Kidd, Garrett (Limited), Auckland, on the 2nd July last by two men who again purchased a similar length of steel on the 7th ultimo. The latter was apparently manufactured into an instrument of the same design as above described, and used to cut open the Farmers' Union Trading Company's safe. (See Police Gazette, 1925, pages 499 and 515.) This is published for the information of the police, as the latter implement may be used in any part of the Dominion for safe-breaking purposes. ### MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION.

Promotion.

To be Sergeant, from 1st September, 1925.

No. 1654. Constable England, Michael Joseph.

Resignation.

No. 2274. Constable Fisher, George Duncan. 14th September, 1925.

Circular No. 4/25.]

Registration of Electors.

It has been decided that members of the Police Force will, on request, witness the signatures of persons applying for enrolment on the electoral roll.

It is not intended that they should make special visits for the purpose or go to any trouble or expense in the matter. The arrangement is simply to assist persons in out-of-the-way places to take advantage of a constable's visit to the locality to make their claims.

All members of the Force who are on the roll for the electorate in which they live can as electors witness the signatures of claimants in that electorate, but in cases where a constable's subdistrict extends beyond the electorate into perhaps more than one electorate, it will be necessary for him to obtain the Registrar's authority in accordance with section 8 of the Legislature Amendment Act, 1910, and Registrars are being instructed accordingly.

A. H. WRIGHT, Commissioner of Police.

Wellington, 17th September, 1925. (P. 25/1247.)

Memorandum.]

General Election, 1925.

As the time for above is approaching, attention is directed to the instructions contained in Police Gazette, 1919, page 704, and a special effort will be made to ensure good order at all political meetings prior to the election.

Notwithstanding the above instructions, in some places rowdy gangs were allowed to take charge of meetings and prevent the addresses of candidates and others.

All meetings should be attended by the police, and, if any undue disturbance takes place, the names of the offenders should be taken and prosecutions instituted. If this is done early in the campaign and the rowdy element realizes that the police are determined to preserve order, there will be less trouble as the election approaches.

At important meetings care will be taken that a sufficient number of police is in attendance, and firm action must be taken to enforce order and eject disturbers when it becomes necessary to do so.

It is not advisable to make a display of uniform men at political meetings, but if in addition to those in uniform a few are scattered among the audience (in pairs) in plain clothes it will be easier to detect disturbers who overstep the mark, and prove the offence.

A. H. WRIGHT, Commissioner of Police.

Wellington, 19th September, 1925.
