FIAT JUSTITIA.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1893.

PROGRESS AND JUSTICE IN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.

THE Catholics of New Zealand provide, at their own sole expense, an excellent education for their own children. Yet such is the sense of justice and policy in the New Zealand Legislature that it compels these Catholics, after having manfully provided for their own children, to contribute largely towards the free and godless education of other people's children!!! This is tyranny, oppression, and plunder.

WOMAN'S NEW OBLIGATION.

THE important clause in the Electoral Bill, giving the franchise to females over twenty-one, possessing at least a residential qualification, has at length received the Royal assent, and is now the law of New Zealand. In the selection of representatives empowered to control the destinies of this Colony, women have now equal rights with men. The novel experiment will be watched with interest throughout the world. The first election under the new state of things will have much influence on political thought in other countries. The eyes of millions will be directed to this young country to see how women will avail themselves of the new privilege. An undoubted obligation and a new duty are imposed. In giving them the power to cast a vote for the good of the country, we are to understand that it is the intention to impose the duty upon women to use their power to secure good government. All women possessing the necessary qualification are expected to vote at election time. All adults are expected, therefore, to at once enroll themselves on the list of electors. In view of an early dissolution of Parliament, no time should be lost. Registration forms may be obtained at Post Offices and from the local registrars. These should be properly filled in and signed by the applicant. The signature must be
