CURZON'S CALUMNIES

LAST week we referred to the calumnies by which Lord Curzon made a ridiculous attempt to do his anti-clerical bit towards helping Harmsworth and Lloyd George to "gas" the Irish Hierarchy. From papers to hand now we are able to give our readers a fuller exposure of the noble lord's pitiful prevarication and also to see how it all works for final good for Ireland. The shout of derision in the free press of the world has already proved that no move yet made by the organised Gang, led by the German Milner and the German conspirator Carson, has done so much to bring home to the world the tyranny and the meanness and the utter disregard for truth and honor which are the notes of the English Government's misrule in Ireland in this hour of the crusade on behalf of small nations. That honest philosopher, G. K. Chesterton, thus sums up in the New
