WORKING NIGHTS

Working Week are Simon Booth, Julie Roberts and Larry Stabbins. Their debut album, 'Working Nights', was produced by Robin Millar who also produced 'Diamond Life' for Sade.

This is no soft jazz copy though. This is high class "Soul-Jazz" pushed a whole step further out. It's exciting exhilarating music but more than anything — what you will hear is — originality. 'Working Nights' will stand head and shoulders above the mainstream of pop this year and for a few more to come.

"Working Week's first LP brims with strong quality soul, salsa, pure jazz and pastiches all brewed to perfection."

Peter Martin — Smash Hits

FLAUNT THE IMPERFECTION

Produced by Walter Becker, formerly of Steely Dan.

10 new songs, including the hit single 'Black Man Ray', all composed by Eddie Lunden, Gary Daly and Gary 'Gazza' Johnson.

"The seductive melodies are gently addictive, the intriguing lyrics draw you in, the shuffling rhythms provide more backbone than before while the plaintive vocals add the winning edge of emotional impact. Easily their most consistent and stylish set yet."

Ian Cranna — Smash Hits

Virgin

the ups and downs

Stephen Tin Tin Duffy listens to and likes pop music, he is six foot tall and nine stone naked. He thinks he can do everything.

He has already done a lot ... A smash hit single with 'Kiss Me', became one of Europe's most sought after male models, exhibited a collection of his photographs and paintings at Convent Gardens prestigious Seven Dials gallery and released his debut album.

"To quote the title of one of the ten tracks, Mr Duffy has presented us with 'A Masterpiece'. It's genius."

Diane Cross — Record Mirror

"An exceptionally enjoyable effort."

Caroline Sullivan — Melody Maker

"A veritable Oscar Wilde of pop." 4 Stars Carole Linfield — Sounds
