Happy Fall guitarist

Marc Riley, the guitarist for the English new music group, The Fall, appears pleased to have arrived in New Zealand. The band arrived in Christchurch yesterday after a tour of Australia. It played at the University of Canterbury last evening, and will appear at the Town Hall tonight. The Fall was considered to be one of the original punk groups, having been formed in Manchester in 1977. A new single, "Lie Dream of a Casino Soul," is in the New Zealand Top 20 pop chart.
