

Make Music Your Business

HMV is New Zealand's largest music chain, retailing records, cassettes, compact disc, video's and associated products. If you are an ambitious retail professional and you share our love of music and video you can become part of the HMV team.

Currently we are looking for store managers, trainee managers and sales assistants.

Store/Trainee Managers

As a prospective store manager for HMV you will have the mix of qualities that makes you both musically aware and commercially astute. We will give you considerable autonomy to make a large number of crucial decisions — from buying the product to managing your people — to ensure the achievement of sales and profit targets for your store. You are probably in your mid to late twenties, have a strong educational background and preferably have experience in retail management.

Sales Assistants

The main prerequisite here is a love of music. You will need to be well groomed, alert and, as you will be dealing with the public every day, good with people.

If you are ambitious and have the necessary drive to produce the results, the opportunities to develop your career in a lively and dynamic company are tremendous. Our salary package is geared to ensure that we attract the best people around.

HMV operate stores throughout New Zealand therefore positions will be available in most areas. Please forward written applications, including full personal and career details, to:
