

Upper: The inner surface of infested bark, showing the oviposition site (A), the mines of larval instars (1-6), and the entrance to the pupal chamber (P).

Lower: Adults of Nascioides enysi Sharp (♂ ♀ ♀) and a pupal cocoon (C) of its parasite, Doryctes pallida Gourlay.