Entertain Your Pals with Our "Easy to do Magic!"

THE DISAPPEARING COIN.

ONE OF THE EASIEST TRICKS, BUT ABSOLUTELY MYSTIFYING.

This is one of the simplest yet most surprising of all the conjuring tricks. You borrow a coin, say half-a-crown or a penny, exhibit it freely to the audience and then wrap it in the magic handkerchief.

You call upon anyone to hold it in full view, and then place a glass of water on the table. You direct the person holding the coin to drop it into the glass. He does so; everybody hears it strike the bottom, but when the handkerchief is withdrawn the coin has vanished, and you make it reappear in some unexpected place.

THE TOPPER CARD TRICK.

A NEW TRICK AND A VERY SURPRISING EFFECT.

Easily Performed. No Palming.
Three cards are shown and are dropped into a borrowed hat placed over another hat. One card is taken out and exhibited. The upper hat is then found to be empty, while the other two cards are discovered in the lower hat. Very little practice will enable this puzzling trick to be well performed.

THE BEWITCHED CARDS.

WONDERFUL AND BEWILDERING.

This is one of the most effective card tricks, yet it is very easily performed. Four eights are shown, at the word of command they change to four twos, then they are directed to become all red cards, and finally they are changed to all black cards. With a little practice, this astonishing trick can be done without risk of detection.

PRICE, COMPLETE WITH INSTRUCTIONS, 3/6 Posted.

THE MAGIC WHISTLE.

EASY AND MARVELLOUS.

At the end of a wand is tied a piece of string, and, at the end of the string, is a whistle. To show that there is no deception all is handed out for inspection.

At command of performer whistle will answer any question by blowing "once" for No. "Two" for Yes, and "Three" for I don't know.

OBJECT LESSON

If peace is indivisible—then so is war.

If ever a demonstration were needed of the infectious nature of mankind's greatest affliction, the events since September 3, 1939, have provided a terrifying object lesson. Of all the great Powers only the United States is outside and shooting and they've got their fingers on the trigger.

The position of Japan is the most ironical of all.

For five years this nation has been carrying on a huge-scale war against the Chinese. For the last two years they have been vividly seeking a new victim in order that they may direct attention from their growing exhaustion in China.

Now a new situation has suddenly arisen.

The Reich invaded Russia, and Japan, who has been doing a sitting-on-the-fence act, is suddenly confronted with the fact that Hitler's repeated requests to Tokio to join in the war gain menacing strength when viewed in the light that Hitler may defeat the Soviet.

On the other hand, if Russian bogs Germany down and the British Empire, plus America, win the war, then Japan is still in a precarious position.

War, which seemed to some so desirable in times of peace, becomes a less attractive proposition when the guns go off all round. For confirmation, apply to the Duce, lying half-stunned in Rome.

Somebody in the Kremlin has been ramming an entering wedge into Hitler's gizzard.

ENTERING WEDGE

We expect you have noticed the stories that the Soviet propaganda people are broadcasting to German families telling how their sons and fathers and lovers are being slaughtered in Russia. They address these talks directly to the people concerned. They tell sympathetically how their loved ones died. What they said and how they suffered.

It is a horrifying yet an intensely moving performance. No one—least of all the relatives who hear these broadcasts—can fail to be affected by the folly and madness with which Hitler drives his millions to their doom.

The Russian, so long despised as a crude and obtuse fellow is not such a mental blunderer after all. As roughnecks, they seem pretty smooth to us.

V FOR VICTORY

The V for Victory campaign shows the first real touch of genius since Northcliffe and his helpers pulverised the Hun on the Propaganda Front a quarter of a century ago. Whoever thought of this idea—or realised its possibilities—has struck a terrific blow against Hitlerism. This is the weapon with which to scare the guilty Hun. Bombers, tanks, fighters, torpedoes and machine-guns are the cutting instruments of war. But propaganda skilfully handled can rip and tear the enemy's mind. It can break his will. It can frighten and horrify him. It can bring him to his knees.

WELLINGTON CRICKET

Two Centuries Scored In Senior Matches

D. S. WILSON'S HAT-TRICK

That batsmen are at last beginning to get a sight of the ball was proved by the freer scoring in the Wellington Cricket Association's senior championship competition on Saturday afternoon. Wickets were on the easy side, but a stiff north-westerly wind enabled bowlers to flight the ball in the air. Highlights of the play were centuries by J. R. Lamason for Wellington College Old Boys against Midland, and by A. N. Thompson for Army against University, and the hat-trick by D. S. Wilson, the Army captain. Brilliant bowling by D. S. Wilson, who took seven wickets for 35 runs, including the hat-trick, enabled the Army eleven to dismiss University at the Basin Reserve for 99 runs. The Army batsmen found the wicket to their liking, and ran up 332 for seven wickets. Thompson, who hit 14 fours, reached the even century before retiring, and D. S. Wilson hit six sixes and four fours in his dashing 72. Otway and Sutherland also scored freely. Declaring their first innings closed with 186 runs on for the loss of nine wickets, Air Force beat Johnsonville at Kelburn Park by 31 runs. Ashenden, McCarthy, Hawthorn and Smith scored freely for Air Force. The only batsmen to get going in Johnsonville's modest innings of 155 were Williams, Fisher and Handley. Madden bowled well for Air Force, and Parsloe and Handley for Johnsonville.

MILITARY RUGBY

New Zealand Team Beats South Africa

WESTERN DESERT, November 8.
The New Zealand Army All Blacks today defeated a South African side by 8 points to nil. J. L. Sullivan (Tara-naki) scored a try, which L. A. Wesney (Southland) converted. Wesney also kicked a penalty goal.

Led by P. J. Lyster, who toured New Zealand with the 1937 Springboks, the Union side was picked from very limited resources and this was the first time its members had played together.
The New Zealand team contains much splendid material, specially in the forwards and outside backs, Sullivan being an outstanding leader.

The weather was bleak and showery,
but 3000 great-coated, battle-dressed
"fans," from Rugby-mad privates to a Rugby-minded general, yelled most of their throats hoarse across a sandy field deep enough into this zone of military operations to call for anti-air craft defences.

The New Zealand team was as follows:—M. Kenny (Wellington), L. A.
Wesney (Southland and New Zealand),
J. L. Sullivan (Taranaki and New Zealand), T. Bramley (New Zealand
Rugby League), D. G. Barton (Wanganui), K. A. Welsh (Wanganui), D. J.
Parsons (South Canterbury), N.
J. McPhail (Canterbury), A. Lam-bourn (Wellington and New Zealand), T. S. Hegglin (Wellington), R. K. Anderson (Auckland), J. B. Cotti (Tara-naki and New Zealand), M. J. McHugh (Auckland), J. McLean (Taranaki), and G. Wales (Wellington).

The South Africans put up a plucky but losing fight against the intensely trained pick of the New Zealand Division.

KOKINIA CAMP

N.Z. Prisoners Of War In Greece

During the last few months numbers of people in New Zealand have been advised by the Government that relatives, wounded either in the Greek or Crete campaigns, were prisoners of war at Kokinia, in Greece. One letter received from that place stated that there were more than 600 men from Crete alone.

Seeking information about this place (which does not appear on most maps) a reporter was told by Mr. Garland, vice-consul for Greece in Wellington, that the patch of country known as Kokinia was flat land, sand and rock, situated roughly half-way between the port of Piraeus and the city of Athens. This area was considered waste land till the Turks drove the Greeks out of Asia Minor in 1922. That meant the uprooting of over a million people, and refugees from the country round about Smyrna streamed across the Aegean into Greece. The then Government, under great duress, had to do something for these people, most of whom had been utterly ruined. Looking round for some place to house them, the Government selected Kokinia as an area handy to both the city and the port, yet cheap land. So houses were built by the hundred on this extensive flat.

Mr. Garland related how a humble sergeant in the Greek army was left a mountain in this district by his grandmother when she died. It was not a very fruitful mountain, still it furnished pasturage for a few hundred goats, the return from which supplemented his meagre pay. Then came the settlement of Kokinia, a few miles away. Greece is deficient in timber, and almost all the lumber it requires has to be imported. So, having no timber to build houses for the refugees from Asia Minor, the Government had to build them of stone, a craft well developed in that country. Where to get the stone? Handily located was Alisida and the sergeant's mountain. It was found on investigation to be composed of good building stone, so contracts were made, the stone was hewn out in huge quantities, carted to Kokinia, there to rise again in the form of houses. And as the mountain disappeared, a good flat area was created in its place. The story told how that sergeant, who had never dreamed his mountain was worth very much, died a multi-millionaire. The stone he sold to the Government comprises the greater part of the town of Kokinia, where so many New Zealand troops, captured in Crete, are held in hospital and convalescent camp.

N.Z.E.F. IN WESTERN DESERT

Mr. Jordan's Tour

TROOPS IN SPLENDID FETTLE

CAIRO, November 16.

"Having seen our men in forward positions, I can assure the people of New Zealand that they have every reason to be proud of their soldiers. They are extremely cheerful in their work happy in their companionships, and eager to engage in the task for which they have been so well equipped," said the High Commissioner, Mr. Jordan, who has returned after a 1000-mile tour of the Middle East to inspect New Zealand troops.

In the desert Mr. Jordan met military leaders and heard words of praise for the New Zealand soldiers. He received a thrill of pride as he heard Dominion soldiers in lorries call out, "Good old Bill."

After the dull skies of England, the bright sands of the desert and the blue waters of the Mediterranean were a welcome change for him. Later, lunching with South Africans, he found himself involved in the most absorbing topic of present-day desert discussion—Rugby football.

On his way back he saw New Zealand sailors aboard one of His Majesty's ships at a Middle East port. He also met specialized New Zealand engineer troops detached from the division, but carrying out a very important task vital for success in desert operations. The adaptability of the New Zealanders impressed him.

Mr. Jordan found time to visit the newly-established hostel near Alexandria. "Contributors to the National Patriotic Fund would indeed be very pleased to see how their money is being spent," he remarked.

On Saturday he lunched at the British Embassy in Cairo. On Tuesday he is to inspect a parade of New Zealand troops, and will see the New Zealand reinforcements at the training camps. Meanwhile he is having a busy time visiting the New Zealand hospitals in the Cairo area.

AUCHINLECK'S PRAISE

New Zealand Troops In Middle East

A cable message which has been received by the Prime Minister, Mr. Fraser, from the High Commissioner for New Zealand in the United Kingdom, Mr. W. J. Jordan, states that he has completed his visit to the New Zealand troops in the Western Desert, and found them in perfect condition and in the highest spirits.

The message added that General Sir Claude Auchinleck, Commander-in-Chief, Middle East, and General Cunningham, formerly Commander-in-Chief of the British Forces in East Africa, had both expressed to him high admiration of the New Zealand troops and their pleasure at having them under their commands. They had also expressed the greatest confidence in Major-General Freyberg, General Officer Commanding, Second N.Z.E.F.

"What line of business do you expect you boy to go into?"

"Well, we've decided to make a lawyer out of him. He enjoyed mixing into other people's business so much that we figured he might as well get paid for it."

Military Camps Match

INVITATION TO WAIOURU

The management committee of the Wellington Cricket Association, at its weekly meeting last evening, decided to invite a team from Waiouru military camp to play a match against a Combined Services eleven, including players from Trentham military camp and the Air Force, at the Basin Reserve, Wellington, on December 5 and 6.

The chairman, Mr. J. D. Howitt, said that now it had been decided not to play the Town v. Country match this season, they should endeavour to comply with the wishes of the Waiouru Camp team to play a match in Wellington. The idea was that the match between the military teams should start on the Friday afternoon, and be concluded on the Saturday. Senior championship games would be continued on the Saturday afternoon, but the game between Army and Air Force set down for that day would be cancelled.

The chairman's suggestions were agreed to, and it was decided to forward invitations to the military camps concerned to play the match.

CINDERELLA CLUB

The Cinderella Club had a "bright and shining" appearance on Friday night as the result of a vigorous working bee held during the week by members. Hostesses for the evening were Jean Kivell, Mary Henderson, Nita Fuller, K. Harratty, Mary Hogg, Clare Keating, Alice Kelly and Marie Fanning.

Men from Trentham were present in large numbers and the Air Force was well represented. During the evening a member of the Air Force, a frequent visitor to the club, was farewelled on the eve of his transfer to another station, and "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" was sung in his honour. A soldier from Trentham played extras which were much appreciated.

Sunday's tea was enjoyed by many men of the Forces. Mrs. Allen's orchestra provided the music for dancing

ARMoured UNITS

Conversion Of Horse & Motor Regiments

TERRITORIAL ARMY

Announcement By Defence Minister

AUCKLAND, November 13.
As a further step to mechanize selected units of the Territorial Force, it is proposed to convert present mounted rifles, horse and motor regiments into light armoured fighting vehicle regiments, said the Minister of Defence, Mr. Jones, today. This step is brought about by the necessity for having mobile armoured units in each of the military districts for Army Headquarters reserve.

Arrangements are well in hand to provide equipment to enable the conversion of these selected units to take place. The armoured fighting vehicle school already established in New Zealand will provide officers and non-commissioned officers with necessary technical instruction which, in turn, will be taught to the armoured fighting vehicle regiments.

In converting the present horse and motor regiments to armoured regiments care has been taken to maintain the history and traditions of existing units. As an indication of how it is intended to achieve this, the "Canterbury Yeomanry Cavalry" will now be known as the 1st Light Armoured Fighting Vehicle Regiment (C.Y.C.). All other units will maintain a similar distinguishing title.

Conversion of the present horse regiments does not entirely dispense with mounted units as a number of independent squadrons are to be retained for special roles in different parts of the Dominion.

NEW ZEALAND TROOPS

Visit By High Commissioner

REPORT TO GOVERNMENT

CAIRO, November 10.

On a flying visit to the New Zealand troops in the Middle East, the High Commissioner for New Zealand in London, Mr. Jordan, arrived in Cairo yesterday. The chief purpose of his visit is to see as many of the Dominion troops as possible, and he will carry out a strenuous tour in his efforts to reach New Zealanders who are scattered through many parts of the Middle East.

When the tour is completed in about a fortnight's time, Mr. Jordan will make a report to the New Zealand Government on his impressions, and make any recommendations that he may deem necessary for the welfare of the troops.

Tonight in his hotel Mr. Jordan gave an interview to representatives of the British, American, Australian, South African, and New Zealand Press.

He told them that the policy of the New Zealand Government was for New Zealand troops wherever they were to take what was coming. He quoted Mr. Savage's memorable words on the outbreak of war: "Where Britain goes, we go, where Britain stands, we stand." Mr. Jordan said he was certain that if New Zealand troops had to go through another Greece and Crete, they would do it again in an equally efficient and gallant manner.

The New Zealand Government, Mr. Jordan said, had complete confidence in the General Officer Commanding the New Zealand Division, Major-General Freyberg, his brigadiers, their officers, and their men. Although he had not yet had time to meet many of the New Zealand troops, he had been greatly impressed with the high standard of physical fitness of the men he had seen around the streets of Cairo. Their tanned faces and bright keen eyes told the story of their fitness.

SERVICEMEN'S CLUBSA.N.A. Serves Hundreds Of Meals

On Saturday afternoon and till after tea time, 320 meals were served at the A.N.A. Club, 500 being served to the men yesterday over the same period. The executive gratefully acknowledges hampers from the Waihau branch of the W.D.F.U. and from the Manakau Older and Younger Sets and a crate of eggs from Mrs. C. E. Turrell, all of which greatly helped with the problem of catering. The club has had a busy week and the Friday and Saturday dances were crowded.

BRITISH SAILORS' SOCIETY

The Lyall Bay Baptist Young people were in charge of all weekend arrangements at the British Sailors' Society. They conducted the Saturday night social, when many soldiers and airmen were among those entertained. There was a good number present for Sunday tea, which was followed by a sing-song and an address by Mr. E. H. Willis. The ladies' guild is to hold a shop day in the rooms on Friday, when a feature of the goods for sale will be a plentiful supply of fresh vegetables from the country. These will be sold at reasonable prices.

BUSY WEEK FOR WEBBY'S GIRLS

This week has been a particularly busy one for the girls of Webby's Club. The stall for the R.S.A. on Friday was a most successful venture and the members wish to thank sincerely all people and firms for their generous donations and also the women who gave willing assistance. The usual dances were held on Friday and Saturday nights with the band in attendance and vocal items were given by club members. Thanks are due to Mrs. Toop for her management of the suppers.

GIFT OF A SHEEP

The gift of a sheep was gratefully received at the National Club from National Party members in Marton. The club had a busy weekend, many men of the Forces enjoying meals and hospitality. At the National Union's tea dance on Saturday, Mrs. Roger Rogers and Miss Margaret Cooper were hostesses. Yesterday members of Wellington West electorate were in charge, with Miss T. Peckston as convener. She was assisted by Mesdames A. S. Morley, G. Osborne-Lilley, C. W. Hodsdon, Misses Nora Ward, Ernestine Hadfield, Dorothy Smith, and Betty Bird.

DANNEVIRKE A.N.A. ROOMS OPENED

The Dannevirke A.N.A. rooms were officially opened on Friday night, the mayor of Dannevirke, Mr. E. Gibbard, welcoming the men from the Dannevirke camp.

The entertainment at the rooms, which was organized by the Young Women's Auxiliary, was greatly appreciated by the men. The supper arrangements were in the hands of the Citizens' Camp Committee.

The rooms will be open on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights, the only times when the men in the Dannevirke camp are granted leave, and for each of these nights the young women's auxiliary has set up strong committees to supervise the entertainment.

HOSTESSES FROM PIONEER CLUB

Hostesses at the Y.M.C.A. tea for soldiers yesterday were members of the Pioneer Club, with Miss Isaacs as convener. The chairman of the tea was Mr. R. H. Nimmo, and associated with him were Miss Amy Kane, president of the Pioneer Club, and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Meek. The lettuces which appeared on the menu were grown and donated by land girls of the W.W.S.A., at East-

Army CricketPAPAKURA

Contributed by "Cymo"

Unit cricket was continued at Papakura Camp last week and two matches were commenced, Canteen, Fire Brigade, H.Q. Mess and P.O., 148; v. Medical and Dental Corps, 30 for 6 and Motor Transport and Mechanics, 37; v. Canteen, Fire Brigade, H.Q. Mess scoring 106 not out against the above matches will be published next week on completion of the second day's play.

An outstanding performance was the first century on the Camp ground since it was opened; Sgt. Smith of H.Q. Mess scoring 1/6 not out against the Medical and Dental Corps team, showing a preference for the on side anything short of a length was despatched to the boundary. He hit 12 fours and two sixes. An old Otago cricketer the senior selector would do well to keep an eye on him.

A rumour has gained ground in Camp that the Camp Sergeant-Major may shortly be turning out for the H.Q. side and already a frantic search is being made by opposing teams for a really fast bowler.

The Camp Commandant, Lt.-Col. F. K. Turnbull, D.S.O., M.C., has kindly promised a trophy for the winning Unit at the end of the season, but although we have had the pleasure of many visits from him in our huts, up to the present he has not favoured us at any of the cricket matches.

One of the most sporting and interesting finishes seen on the Camp ground was witnessed on the concluding day's play between the Camp Fire Brigade, H. Mess and P.O. v. Motor Transport and Mechanics which resulted in an outright win for the Combined side by 10 wickets and 31 runs. The M.T. and M. added the chance of a sporting finish by declaring at 102 for 9 wickets leaving the Combined side half an hour to get 49 for an outright win. The two opening batsmen set about the job in no uncertain manner running for almost anything and sending any loose balls to the boundary; they not only got the 49 but actually scored 81 in the half hour. Smith, who scored 106 not out last week in the unfinished match against the Dental and Medical, scored 53 and Sanders, our only P.O. representative, scored 27 both undefeated at the end. One must congratulate the M.T.M. for giving the Combined side a chance for a real sporting finish — it was cricket at its best.

Everyman's Hut

"At even, ere the sun was set,
The sick, O Lord, around Thee lay;
Oh, in what divers pains they met,
Oh, with what joy they went away.
Once more 'tis eventide, and we,
Oppressed with various ills, draw near,
What if Thy form we cannot see,
We know and feel that Thou art near.
O Saviour Christ! our woes dispel;
For some are sick and some are sad,
And some have never loved Thee well
And some have lost the love they had.
And some have found the world is vain,
Yet from the world they break not free;
And some have friends that give them pain,
Yet have not sought a friend in Thee.
O Saviour Christ! Thou too art near;
Thou hast been troubled, tempted, tried,

Thy kind but searching glance can sear
The very wounds that shame would hide!
Thy touch has still its ancient power;
No word from Thee can fruitless fall;
Hear in this solemn evening hour,
And in Thy mercy heal us all."
Could one look into the hearts and minds of the companies of soldiers gathered together in the various camps, doubtless one would find as great a variety of diseases and sicknesses of the hearts and minds as Christ found of bodily disease in those crowds that thronged around Him for healing, but one would find this great difference also. The latter companies of people came to Him because they knew they were sick and unable to cure themselves, but they believed that He could heal them.
Their faith was not misplaced, for in wonderful compassion and mercy
"He healed them all."

But how many of the former companies of those, who at the call of duty are leaving all and going forth to face death — how many of them realise that they need healing of heart and soul?

The enemy has so be-drugged them with the so-called pleasures of this world, that they never give a thought to the all important question of eternity. May the nightly messages from Everyman's Hut awaken them to their need of healing and also bring them to the One Who is able and willing to heal and to keep.

Owing to the scope of Everyman's Hut work being enlarged to include the distribution of the Scripture Gift Mission's Active Service Testaments to Air Force Stations and military points outside the Camps, the need of an assistant for Mr. Les Taylor has been apparent and this need has been met by the arrival of Mr. John Brunt from Auckland. John is no stranger, as he spent four months in Trentham with the overseas forces before being rejected for physical disability.
The authorities have very kindly released him from further military duties so that he may give his whole time to work at Everyman's Hut.
During the week he was fittingly welcomed to the Hut by Mr. Taylor and about two dozen of the Christian boys.
May the blessing of the Lord be with him.
