Strength Through Joy

"History's greatest life-giver and physician is our Fuehrer."

—Julius Streicher, August 10, 1937.

If you want a recipe for a grim smile just mix the above statement with the following ingredients received by neutral correspondents from Berlin.

"Trustworthy estimates place the number of executions at between ten and thirteen a month. Several methods of executions are used: the axe, the two-handed sword, the guillotine, shooting and hanging.

"Execution by shooting is estimated highly by Germans as the most honourable death."

When someone finally plugs the unspeakable one as an infinitesimal reprisal for the scores of thousands he himself has murdered, will it be permissible to say: "Physician, heal thyself?"

Bung Ho!

If I don't turn up in this paper for a few weeks, just put me down as having a slight holiday in a Dublin workhouse.

From a few facts published about this workhouse recently it seems a cross between the world's great drinkery and the end of all the hopes of the Temperance boys.

During six months the gay inhabitants mopped up four hundred gallons of whisky and ten thousand pints of porter.

This glorious sea of alcohol was apparently free for all.

No nonsense about treating each other.

Every drop of it "on the house."

Whoopee!
