

Dozerdust

SPECIAL EDITION.

WORKS SERVICE ENGINEERS.

24.11.43.

PASCO & GRAY READY

FOR BIG NIGHT FRIDAY.

Treasurer Kenna Sleeps on Cash.

Sgt. Cliff Foster and Spr. Ray Barnaby were called in on Monday night to draw fortune's favourites from the hat. The crowd was quiet and orderly though Promoter Pasco was nervous - he had not written home for a week. ::::THERE were a good many surprises. Len Boot was sitting in his tent puffing at a cigar and looking over his botany notes when word was brought him that he had been lucky in the draw. He departed from botanical language to explain he had never previously won a draw. " Now my luck has changed, I may get home soon " he said beamingly. It has not been possible to contact Capt. Boyd or Lieut Wise, both of whom the Gods favoured. We suspect - perhaps we'd better not say. ::::JIM Hawthorne say he thought he would get Night Pal as he has always done most of his work at night. Spr. Holt is living in hope of dragging the hundred odd dollars his way - from what the promoters say all the favoured ones think the same way.

FRIDAY NIGHT.

ELABORATE precautions are being taken to guard against speilers, financial combines and panic on Friday night when horse will be auctioned.

GONOPHONE FLASH: It was heard at the Gonophone on Monday that Works Officers had a very pleasant surprise in store for personnel - can mean only one thing. See regular edition.

Opening of auction at present a closely guarded secret. It is understood new features in auctioneering will be introduced.

"Killer" Cain and Frank Sayers refused to participate in Sweep on ground that it was being run in India where horses may be touched with Civil Disobedience propaganda.

Treasurer Kenna says purse will be worth a hundred easily. Bidding for horses expected to reach phenomenal prices. Promoter Gray says his hair is beginning to curl already. He advises all patrons to remain at mess after evening meal.

A discovery that promises to rock racing world is the discovery of Plonk, the New Caledonian wonder horse. Full story in this week's Dozerdust. Book your copy with newsdealer now.

REMEMBER Friday night - your big opportunity...to win.