An interview with Spr. Allenson.

Have you ever noticed that when life is full-living, when the road to happy enjoyment lies open before you, that Fate is lurking around the first corner with a piece of lead piping. So it was with me..I was happy, I was contented, in spite of the fact that I was in a tent with Cpl. Veale and his ilk, I was tranquil...Then my 'friends' conspired to my downfall..Gently I was led up the garden path. "Come and have a drink pal" they said..And I-, not usually a drinking man, accepted for the sake of fellowship. I had one drink, I had two drinks, I had three drinks.. what had I done?

Then I heard a 'Call' that would not be denied so out I went standing there beneath the moon I was suddenly attacked and hurled over the cliff. Painfully I fought my way to the tent and rest...Tired and dispirited I slept; a sleep broken with evil dreams of smashed trucks, broken beer bottles, vanilla essence and flaming buildings. In the morning when I awoke, my body stiff and sore, did I receive gentle aid ? did I get sympathy ? did my pals rally round ?...NO---

They, my friends, tell me that these things really came to pass..But I, the injured party, know the truth..'tis my past that comes back to haunt me. The constant bumping of a 'soccer ball on my head has had its effect..The island has me..
