

LOCAL NEWS.

The sight of the draughting room tent being used as a gas chamber brought tears to the eyes of all.

When the fixing of respirators for Div Engs personnel was made the responsibility of the class, three of them had to be drawn for.

What eggsactly do the cooks think they are doing? I'll stake my life they don't know.

There is a rumour to the effect that curry is being issued to unit cook-houses.

Fears are entertained for the sanity of one sapper, who, after emerging from the chrysalis stage has been observed flitting about the camp precincts, sparsely clad, in the 'wee sma' hours. It has not yet been decided whether the sapper is 'all wet' or 'ALL wet'. He was also recently seen wandering about with an axe in his hands. He is at present recuperating from these attacks under the able care of one of his tentmates. Friends, if any, desirous of visiting the patient may find him under his net between 0800 hrs Monday to 0800 hrs the following Monday inclusive..

SCONE-DOERS

It is with pride and joy that we publish the news that the scone-doers handicap was not run this week owing to the lack of starters. All that remains to be done is to purchase one only pair gloves, white, and present them to the editor.. Thank you...

An enquiry was held concerning the rissoles served up for lunch on Monday 24 May. No recognized foods could be found in any of the specimens examined but finally a deputation waited on the cooks. The Chief Slushy's comment was in the nature of a statement. "If they tasted like burnt cow manure they were obviously fish rissoles because meat rissoles have the taste of old engine oil. However it will be found that a very liberal supply of tomato sauce will hide the appearance and destroy the taste".

As the said rissoles tasted like dirty sacking we still do not know what they were made of...
